Eagles Take Pride

Brian Evans, Collins Stukes, Jimmy Forbes, H.T. Weaver, and Charlie Coulter take time out to talk at an afternoon pep assembly.

East Mecklenburg addresses itself not only to training and developing the mind but also the whole person. Life at East is planned as a series of experiences which allow the students to get a more significant perspective of themselves and their goals. Dramatic productions, musical programs and various other cultural activities help students explore and further develop their talents. A student can develop himself socially while dancing to the music of his favorite band. Clubs, self-government and East's honor system help students to develop leadership and prepare themselves for their future role in community life. Thus, when a student graduates from East Mecklenburg he has become a more complete and versatile person ready to face life in today's challenging world. East Mecklenburg takes pride in this distinctive way of life.

Are Times Of Relaxation

Students eat lunch in a relaxed and casual atmosphere.

Two portions of a student's day were set apart from his academic endeavors. A twenty-five minute break and homeroom period as well as the usual lunch period provided times when the students at East could relax and take time out from the day's routine.

During break time, students found time to socialize, talk informally with teachers, and catch up on various matters of business. In homeroom, attendance was taken and students were brought up to date on many school activities by their informed homeroom presidents.

Although lunch was one of the more hectic times of the day, it was undoubtedly the most enjoyed. Seniors took advantage of their guarded privilege, the Senior Patio, while underclassmen confined their socializing to the Student Lounge and surrounding areas. Some students wisely used this time in the library doing homework or preparing afternoon assignments. In whatever way each individual student spent this time, all agree that these parts of the schedule were a welcomed portion of every Eagle's day.

Outstanding Speakers Talk At Assemblies

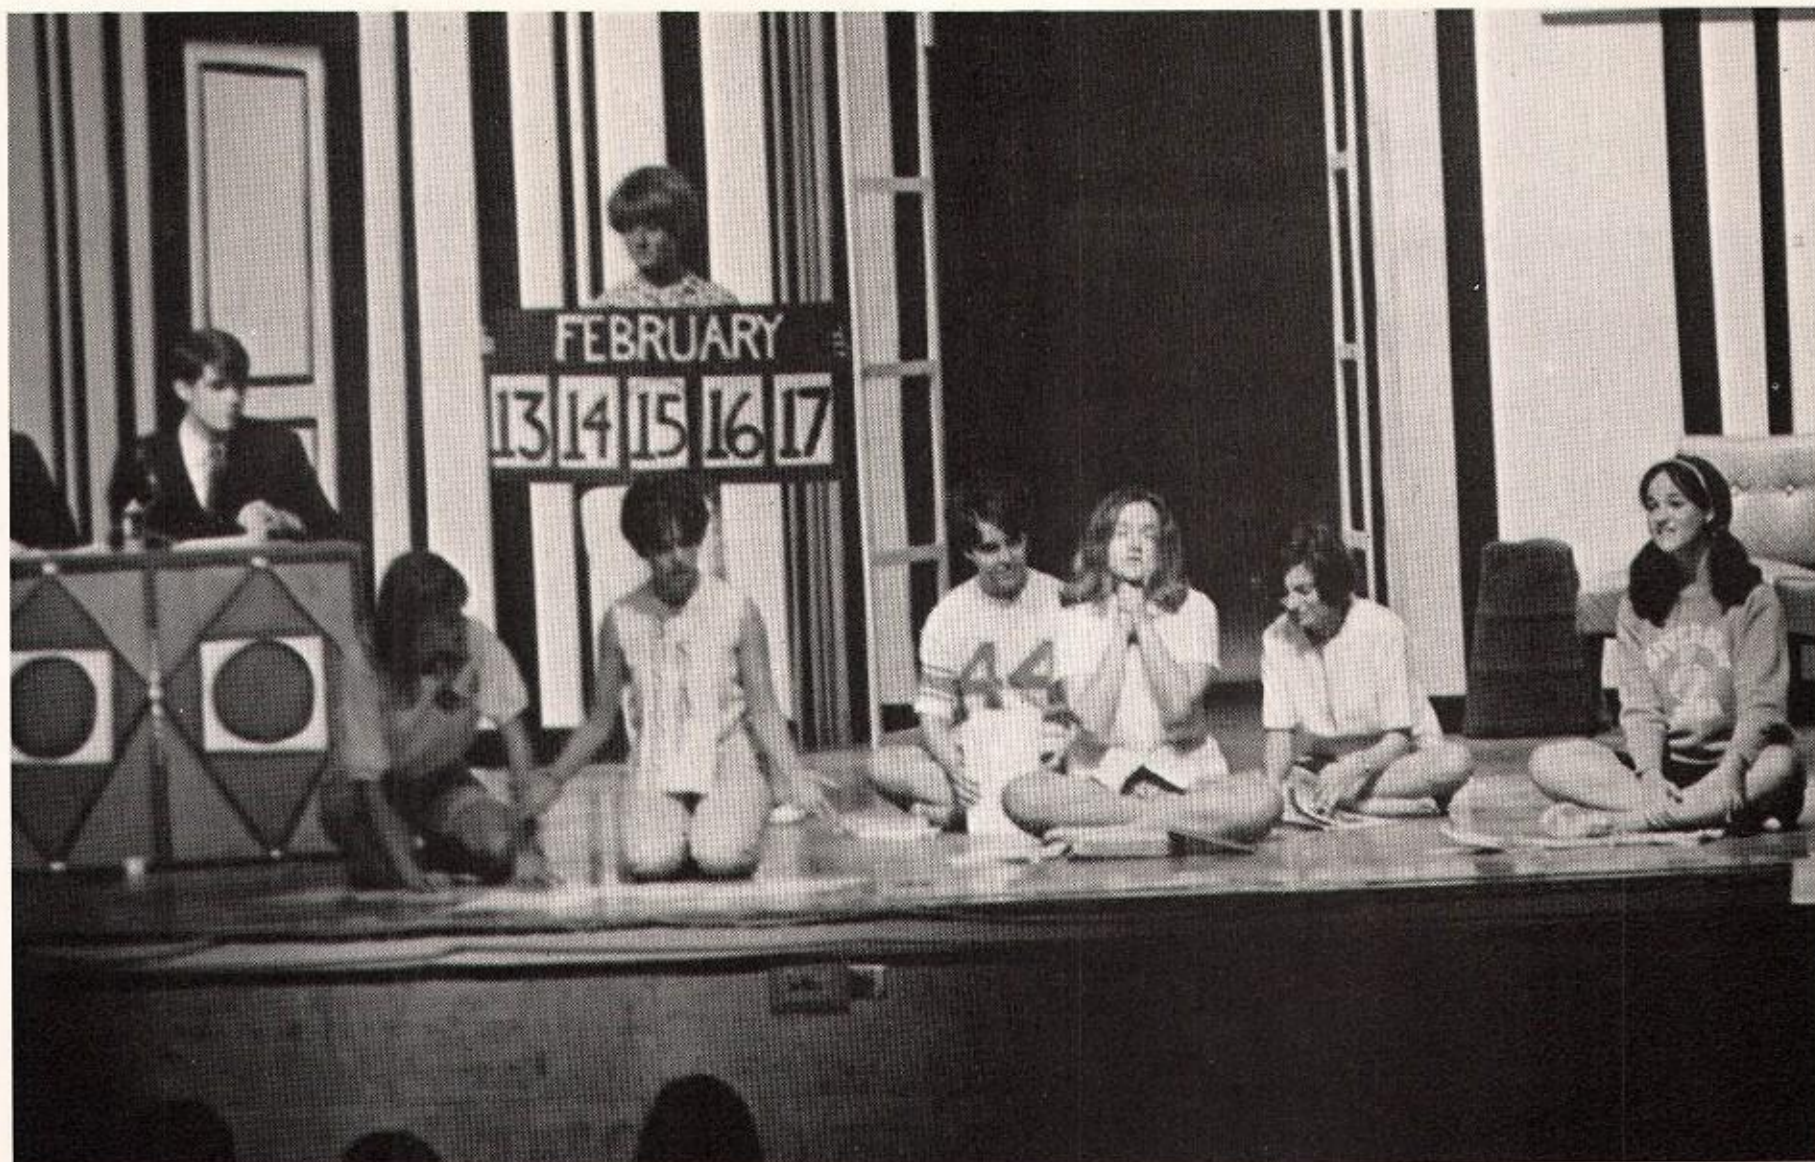

Senior girls, alias the football players, huddle at a pep assembly.

Among the various facets of school life are the informative and enjoyable assemblies. East takes pride in these enlightening and interesting programs. At the commencement of the school year, several assemblies were held to orient sophomores to East's ever expanding way of life. Special departmental assemblies were planned which featured such noted speakers as Ken Cantrell, renown Broadway singer, and Dr. Edward Weiant, noted speaker on political science. The afternoon pep assemblies, although being in a lighter vein, were just as important in contributing to the spirit of life at East.

Outstanding Eagles were honored for their scholarship, service, creativity, and citizenship at a special spring assembly. At this time many awards were presented to deserving students, new officers were sworn in, and the new marshals were presented to the student body.

Miss Bonnie Watts was chosen as the 1968 winner of the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Award. Bonnie, president of Inter-Club Council and a marshal, is also a member of Honor Society, Junior Civinettes, and Quill and Scroll. Her outstanding service and dedication in these and various other activities made her an excellent choice for this honor.

The Year's Best—Mr. And Miss East Wind

Every year the EAST WIND editorial staff elects two seniors for the title of Mr. and Miss EAST WIND in recognition of their contributions to the spirit and ideals of East during their three years here. This year the honor went to Brian Evans and Betty Poole.

Betty, a marshal and associate editor of the EAST WIND, was quite active in Junior Civinettes, Student Council, Honor Society, Executive Council and the choir. She was also co-chairman of the Student Council Devotional Committee. Brian, a member of National Honor Society, Inter-Club Council and the Key Club, was president of Quill and Scroll, East's honorary journalistic club. The staff offers sincere congratulations to Betty and Brian.

This year's Homecoming was a time of increased excitement and anticipation for new and old Eagles alike. In a display of intense school spirit, students decorated homeroom doors and various areas of the school. A Friday afternoon pep assembly staged by the cheerleaders also served to heighten school spirit and spur the Eagles on to victory.

Highlighting the week's events were the half-time activities at Friday's game. Bill Shaver emceed the program which had a theme of "Flower Power." After the band's usual half-time performance, the nominees for Homecoming Queen, selected by the senior members of the football team, were presented to the crowd. The student body elected Miss Barbara Babenco as this year's queen while Miss Suzi Lawrence, Miss Barb Downing, Miss Debbie Capp, and Miss Wanda Fowler were chosen to be her court. Miss Linda Craven, 1966 Homecoming Queen, was also on hand to congratulate the girls and present the queen with flowers. Barbara received her crown Saturday night at the annual Homecoming dance, which served as a memorable climax for Homecoming 1967.

National Festival

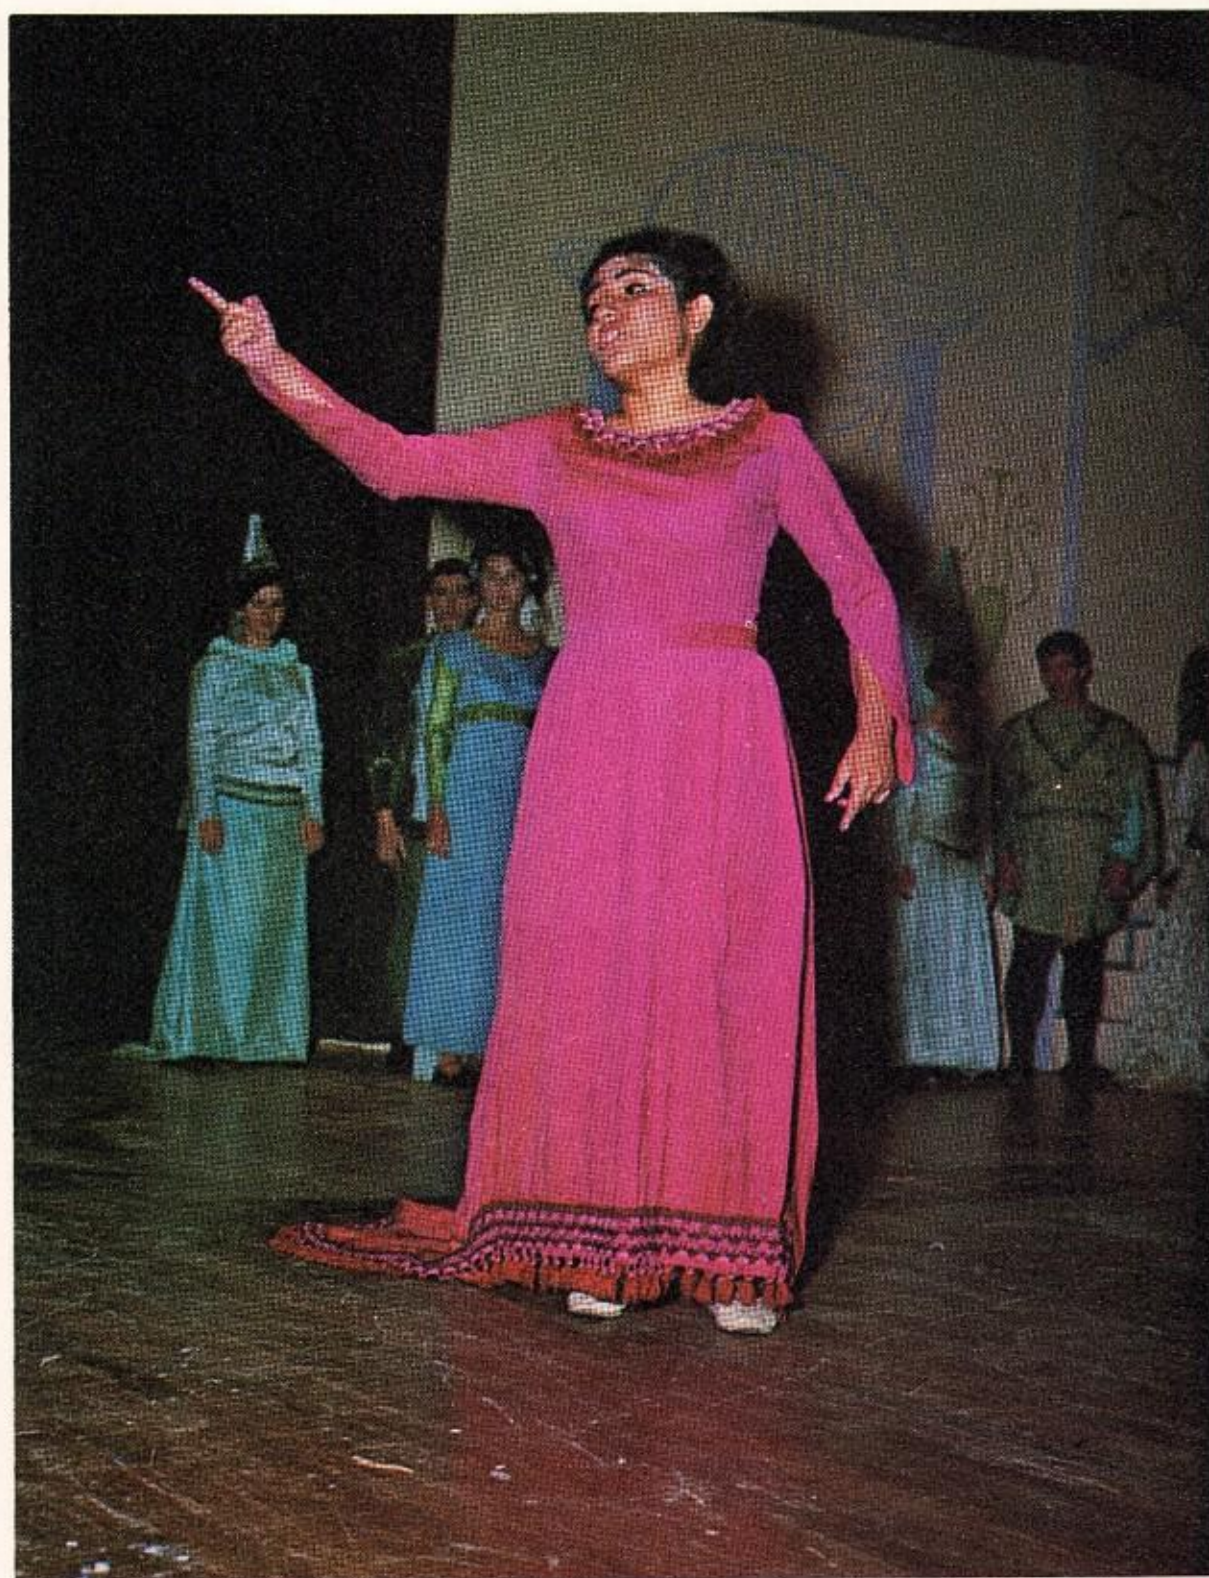

The East Mecklenburg drama department has always enjoyed an excellent reputation and this year was no exception. Under the direction of Mr. Doug Mitchell, the department has managed to reach even greater heights of recognition and success.

The season was opened with the presentation of SEE HOW THEY RUN, a comedy starring Bill Shaver, Cherie Sheppard and Robbie Peacock. At two different times the music and drama departments collaborated in the production of two widely acclaimed musicals. In May, the musical comedy ONCE UPON A MATTRESS was staged for the student body and the general public. This fantastic production displayed the talents of Linda Perez, Laura Jacobs and John Mackay. In December, the two departments were again successful in their presentation of HALF A SIXPENCE, which featured Pat Stone and Bill Shaver.

The talented members of the department have hardly gone unrewarded for all their hard work as East Mecklenburg was the only high school selected to represent North Carolina in competition at a national festival in February. Various other awards were also received in state and regional competition.

The Student Council Variety Show, emceed by Bill Shaver and Robbie Peacock, allowed many other Eagles to display their talents in a delightful rendition of the "Smothers Brothers Show."

Clubs Sponsor Holiday Dances

The language and International Exchange clubs collaborated in giving the annual Christmas dance. Due to the efforts of the four clubs, the cafeteria, adorned with candles and greenery, was transformed into a holiday wonderland. The title of Mr. Santa Claus, a contest originated the previous year, went to H.T. Weaver. Dancing was done to the music of the fabulous Premiers.

The Sweetheart Dance, another club sponsored event, was given in early February by the Beta Club. Members of the club decorated the cafeteria in the theme of "The Sweetheart Tree." Wanda Thomas was elected to reign as Sweetheart Queen. Debbie Capp, Mallery Knee, Wanda Fowler and Judy Winder served as her attendants. Music was provided by Harry Deal and the Galaxies.

Activities

Park Center was the setting for the 1966-67 Junior-Senior Prom on the evening of April 28th. The Decorations Committee, headed by co-chairmen Bonnie Watts and Robbie Peacock, set the theme as "Through the Looking Glass," and various members of the Junior Class helped to carry out the plans.

Couples entered to find themselves transported to the world of "Alice in Wonderland." A photographer was on hand to take pictures of the couples against an imaginative setting. The traditional Grand March and the spotlight dance served as the high point of the evening as East's celebrities and their dates were presented to the crowd.

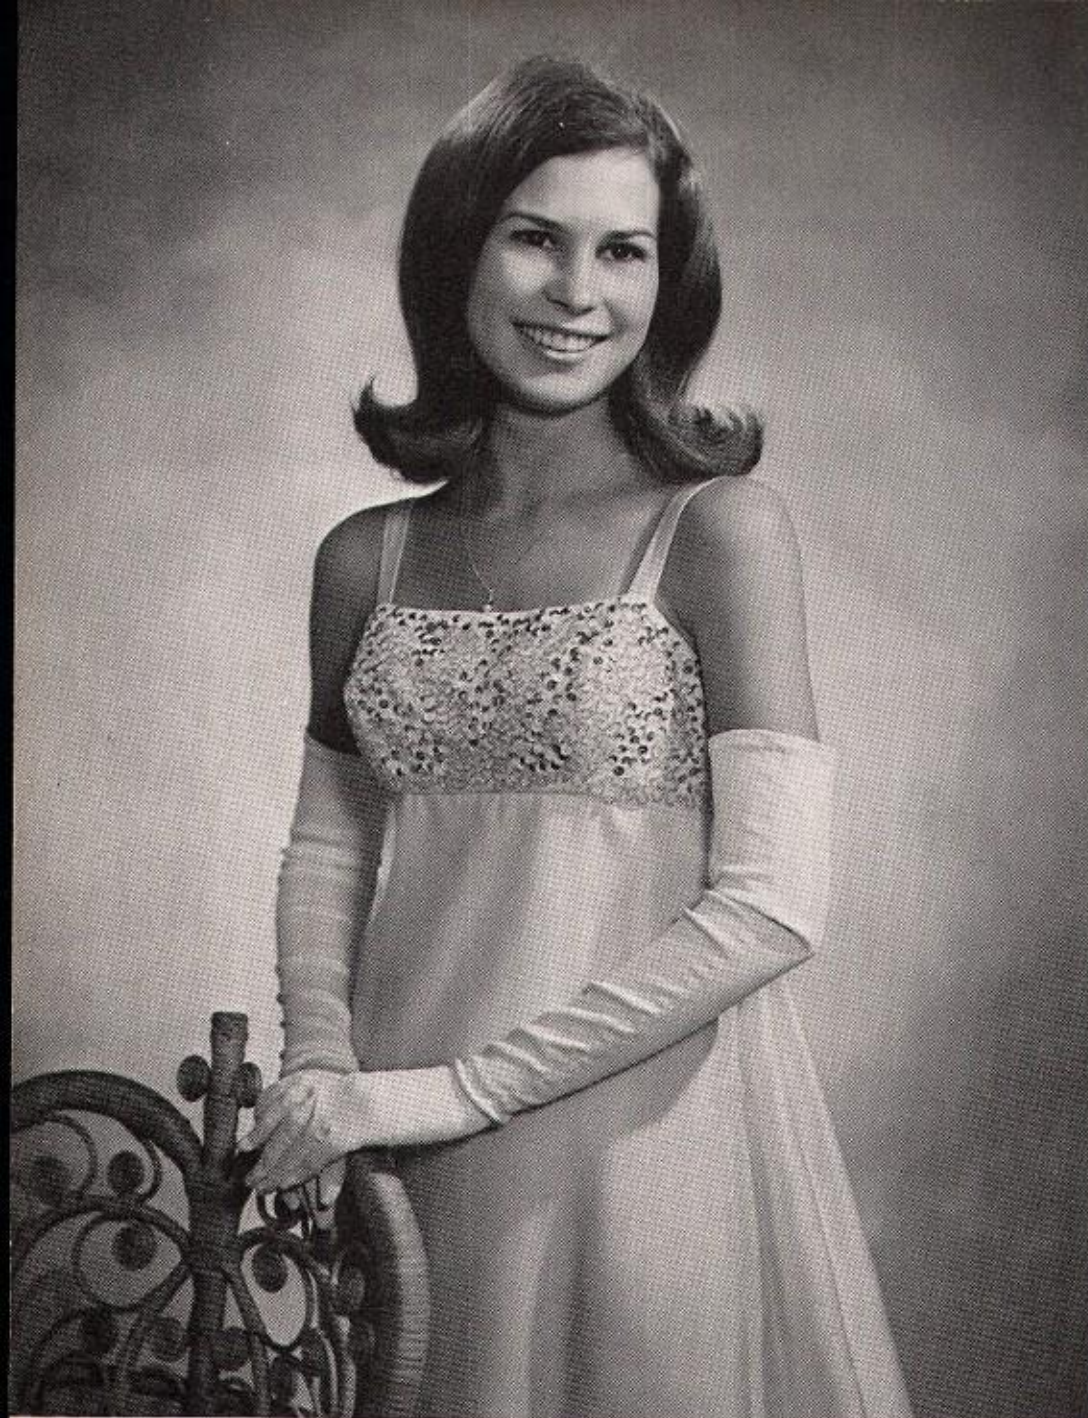

For the juniors, the dance brought an end to their long weeks of planning and work, while for the seniors, it was a memorable climax to their year as candidates for graduation.

By Senior Class

This year's graduating class elected senior Suzi Lawrence to take part in the annual Christmas Carrousel of the Carolinas. Chosen from among ten other girls nominated, Suzi was crowned by Clyde Baucom, president of the senior class, at an afternoon pep assembly.

As a Carrousel Princess, she attended the two day festivities at the Manger Motor Inn and rode aboard a float in Charlotte's annual Thanksgiving Day Parade. She was also presented along with the other princesses from the surrounding area at the Mayor's Banquet and Ball.

A combination of beauty, poise, and intelligence made Suzi an excellent choice to represent East Mecklenburg.

Four foreign exchange students, sponsored by the Charlotte Exchange Student Program, made their homes with East students during the school year. Taking an active part in school activities, these four were a welcomed addition to the student body.

Perla Aquilera, a native of Argentina, spent the year with the family of Beth Fleishman, president of East's International Exchange Club. Perla was quite active in Honor Society, Junior Civinettes and Spanish Club.

East was also fortunate in having two students from Norway. Both Rene Bjerke and Ragna Os, a member of the choir, participated in the production of HALF A SIXPENCE. Rene also edited a column on dramatic criticism during the year for the EAGLE.

Annemarie Lothar, a member of Honor Society, Junior Civinettes, Student Council and the choir, came to Charlotte from Germany. She resided with Charlotte Cooper and her family.

During the summer prior to the 1967-68 school year, three Eagles chosen from the junior class, spent their summer vacations abroad. Dennis Kirkley and Bonnie Watts resided in Chile while Cindy Armstrong lived with a family in Norway. This year Christy Eve, Gordon Brown and Nancy Sellars will also participate in this Charlotte Summer Exchange Program.

Art Club meetings can be very thought-provoking.

President Valerie Hodges gives her views on artistic expression.

In September the Art Club worked on its displays for the Festival in the Park. Some of the members explaining the exhibits worked in booths. During the Christmas season, the club entered the Shoney window contest; their efforts and those of Mr. Miller brought them a first place.

Bill Shaver stresses the importance of Drama Banquet's awards.

Drama Club, in conjunction with the National Thespian Society at East, worked on Saturdays building sets for plays.

On Awards Day the club recognized the person who would receive the Most Valuable Member Award.

Members of the club took part in contest plays for regional and state competition. Mr. Mitchell advised the club whose membership was open to anyone who wished to further explore the techniques of drama.

Treasurer Laura Jacobs investigates possibilities of donating money to Inter-Club Council.

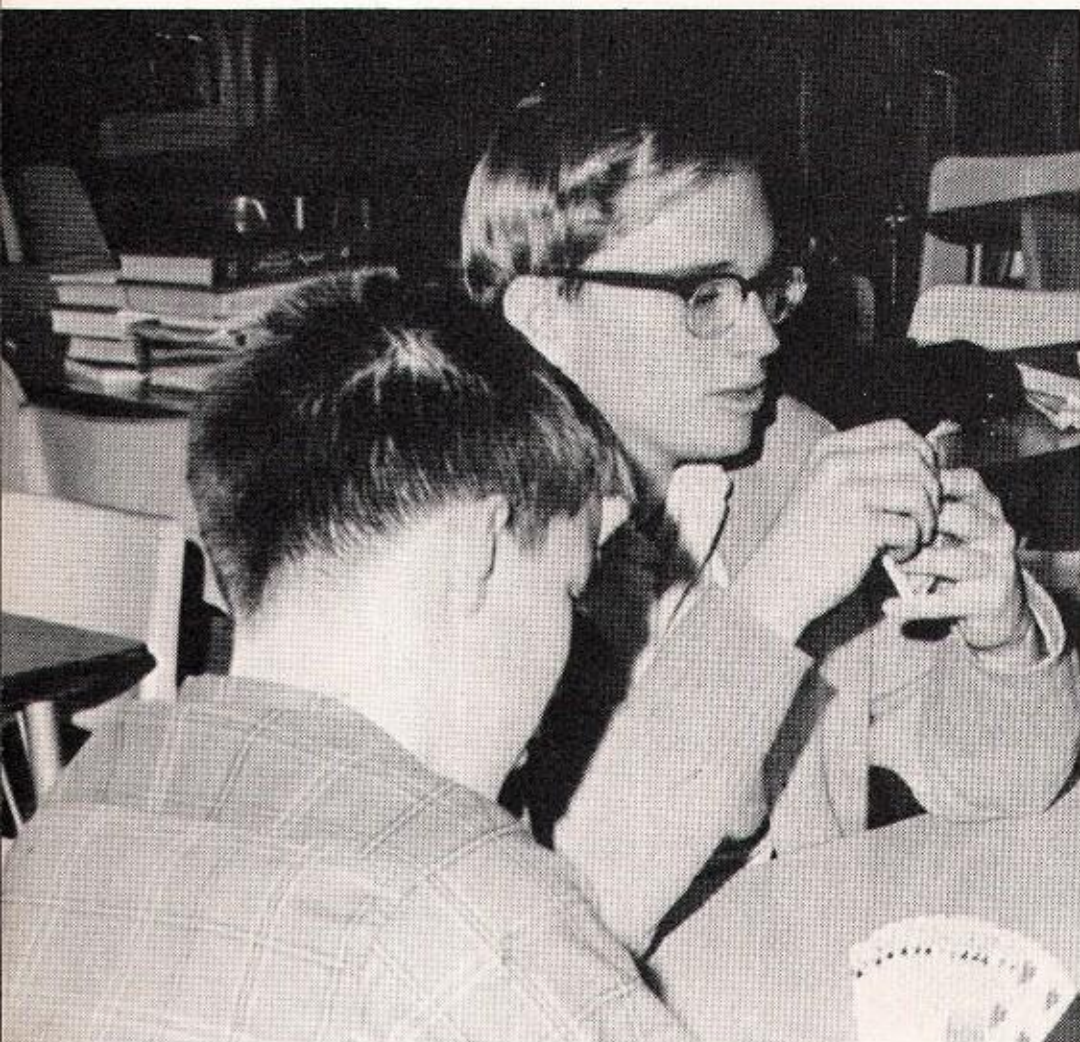

Bridge Club Holds Tournament

Under the guidance of Mrs. Hopper, the Bridge Club members tried to increase their skill at playing bridge. New members who could not play the game were taught the fundamentals of bidding, playing hands, and scoring. After business meetings, the members played bridge with others. The club planned a tournament among their own members during second semester.

Tournaments Provide Experience For Debaters

Miss Kiker speaks with President Cyndi Armstrong about future tournaments.

Advised by Miss Kiker and Miss Willis, the Debate Club was active in several tournaments including the State and National Forensic League Contests. Last year the East Debate Club was the regional winner in debating. Cynthia Armstrong, Kim Shapiro, Vaud Travis, Jim Thompson were the four debate medalists.

On Awards Day the club awarded the Most Valuable Debater Award to Cynthia Armstrong.

History Club Explores The Past

President H. T. Weaver listens to reactions of the members to the past programs.

The History Club's membership was open to anyone interested in history. Interesting programs supplemented classroom studies, and all East students were invited to them. Miss Grimbball was the club advisor.

This year a professor who had taught in Russia spoke to the club, energetically praising our democracy. The Green Berets infiltrated a program to inform the club about their purpose.

On Awards Day the club recognized the most outstanding history student.

With Mrs. McCracken, the librarian, the club attended a convention of the North Carolina Library Association in Concord.

"I say chaps, isn't there a better place for our Thespians than the tavern?" questions Bill Shaver.

Membership into the National Thespian Society at East was selective, open to those students whose parts in productions were numerous. Roles in plays, back-stage activities, and set design qualified students to apply. Club members voted on the applicants.

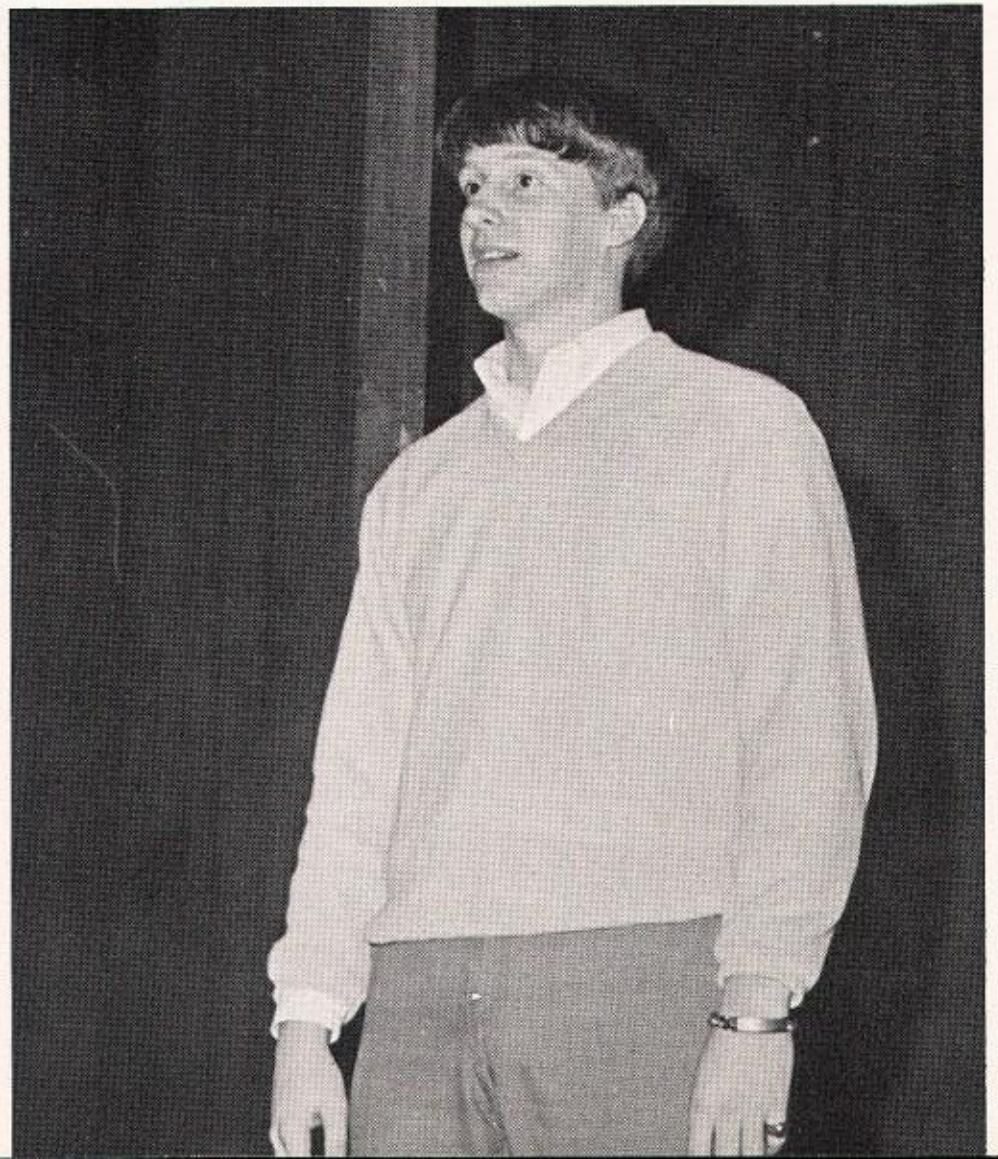

Certain members representing North Carolina in the competition went to the Southeastern Drama Festival in Atlanta.

Directed by Mr. Charles Starnes, the Choir, a select group of eighty-seven vocalists, gave performances featuring many types of music. The Christmas concert and the spring concert highlighted the seasons at East. Various churches also heard the Choir in special services.

Several of the members went to the State Choral Festival held in Greensboro in March. At District contests, the Choir has won superior ratings for the past several years.

On Awards day, two recognitions were given - - one for the most valuable voice and another for the most service given.

Two other groups of talented students - - the Girls' and Boys' Ensembles - - joined the Choir in making East's music department one of the finest. The Girls' Ensemble made many appearances before civic organizations not to mention the school concerts and the district contest. For the second year a Boys' Ensemble was formed during the second semester by a group of young men who upheld the East tradition of superior singers.

Musical Activities Promote Culture

Students with special musical ability had a chance to make their debut before an audience in the Musicians Club. In addition, programs dealing with opportunities open to musicians featured guest speakers.

The Ugliest Man on Campus contest, a money-making project, provided funds for the scholarship awarded to a senior planning to major in music.

Several times during the year, trios from the club provided entertainment for bed-ridden patients at the Charlotte Rehabilitation Center and various nursing homes.

Each day during third period the auditorium was filled with the flowing sounds of the strings. Last year the String Ensemble was honored with a superior rating at the Greensboro State Festival held in the spring.

Under the direction of Mrs. Spratt, the ensemble played in the District Festival as well as the State Festival. In the spring, the strings of East joined those of Independence and South in a concert. This year an orchestra award was awarded to the best student in the Ensemble.

Band Reaches Peak Under Mr. Venditti

This year the East Band, with its new director, Mr. Venditti, was the highlight of the football halftimes. The band exhibited high spirit and good music in the Carrousel Parade, the Band Bowl, and the Christmas Concert.

The band was composed of all interested students with at least two years of playing experience. On the field, the band was joined by the majorettes, the lettergirls, and the flag carriers.

The organization gives a Band Award at the awards assembly. Last year Steve Marion, Jay Callahan, and Ricky Thomas received the award.

GAA Sells Football Programs At Games

The Girls' Athletic Association, advised by Miss Jean Evans, was responsible for the sale of football programs and stadium cushions at all home games. This project helped raise money for the club.

Other schools' members played the East club in such sports as basketball during the night meetings. Other sports included volleyball and tumbling. In May the club went to Greensboro for the State Play Day.

I.E.C. Aims For Better Relations

In its first full year of operation, the International Exchange Club, or I.E.C., has strived to bring the student body in closer contact with its exchange students. The club sponsored a spaghetti dinner at president Beth Fleishman's house at which Perla Aguilera and Ann Lothar told the members about Christmas celebrations in their homelands. Mrs. Stewart served as advisor.

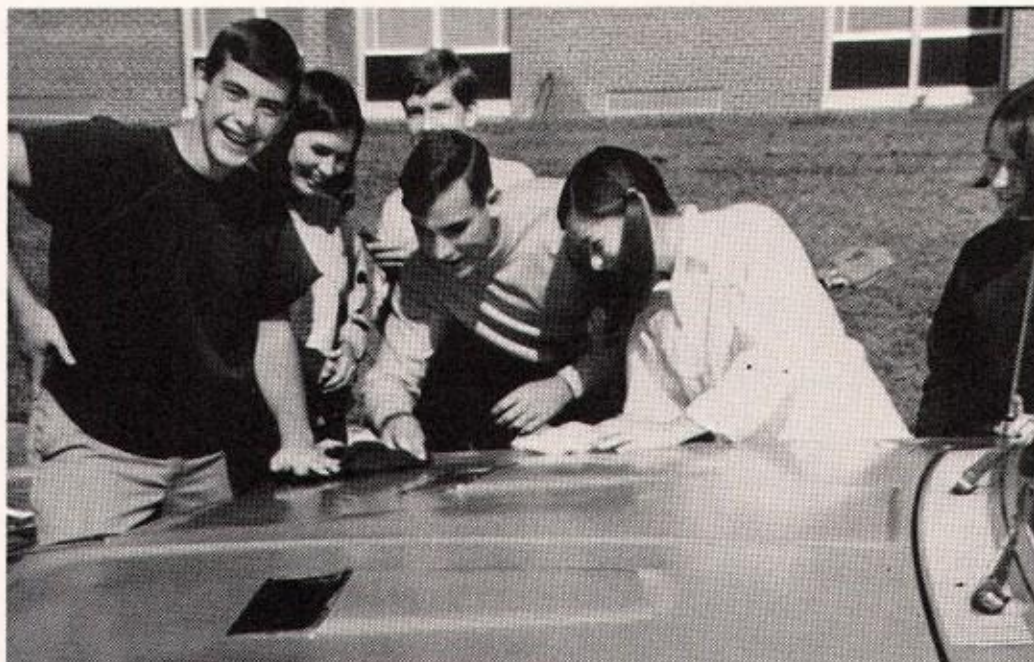

Later in the year the I.E.C. planned to sponsor a fund-raising project to help finance East's summer exchange students' trips abroad.

The car wash is a good way to raise money and have fun at the same time.

In order to be a member of the Beta Club a student must have at least a B-average, and he must possess qualities of leadership, service, and character.

To raise money for the Sweetheart Dance, the club washed cars in October. The dance was held in February, and Harry Deal and the Galaxies provided the music.

Mrs. Elinor Herring and Mrs. Evelyn Grain guided the club.

Civinettes Accentuate Citizenship In School Life

The club listens as Anne Lothar explains the school system in Germany.

Sharon Rose, president, pauses to speak with other members before guiding parents at a P.T.A. meeting.

The Junior Civinettes club was a girl's honorary organization affiliated with Civitan International. Sponsored by Myers Park Civitan Club and advised by Miss Ratliff, the girls actively participated in school and community service projects.

Through application, careful selections were made for girls possessing qualities of scholarship, leadership, and citizenship.

Sponsoring Citizenship Week at school was one of the major activities. A contest was held to select a boy and girl from each class who were, in the eyes of the students, the best citizens. The club entertained children at Thompson's Orphanage, guided parents on P.T.A. nights as they visited the classrooms, and bought and decorated the Christmas tree for the student lounge.

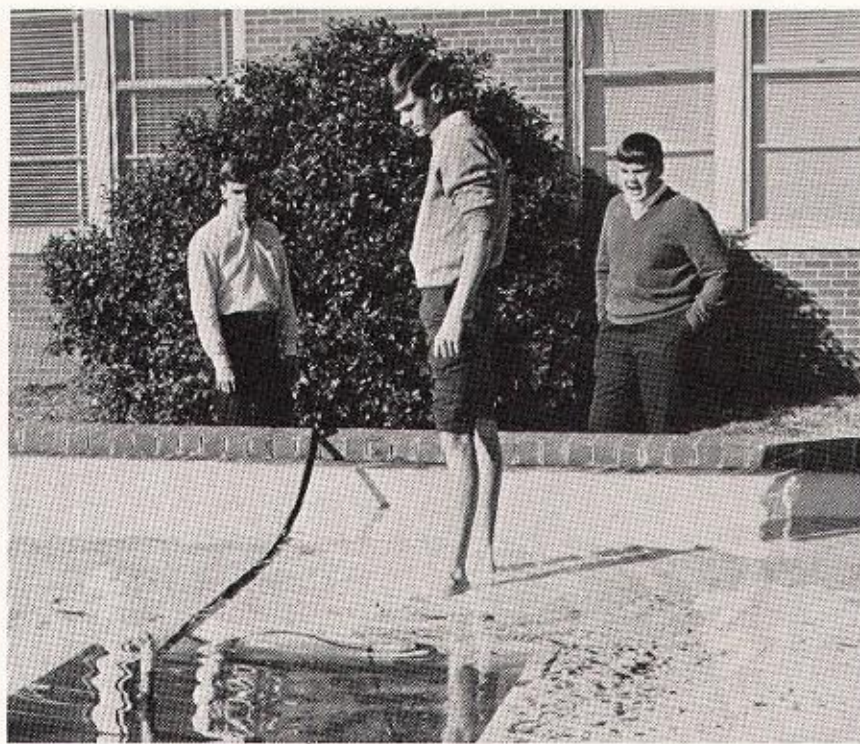

Last year, Civinettes was awarded the title of Community Service Club of the year.

Clubs Serve Needy At Home And Abroad

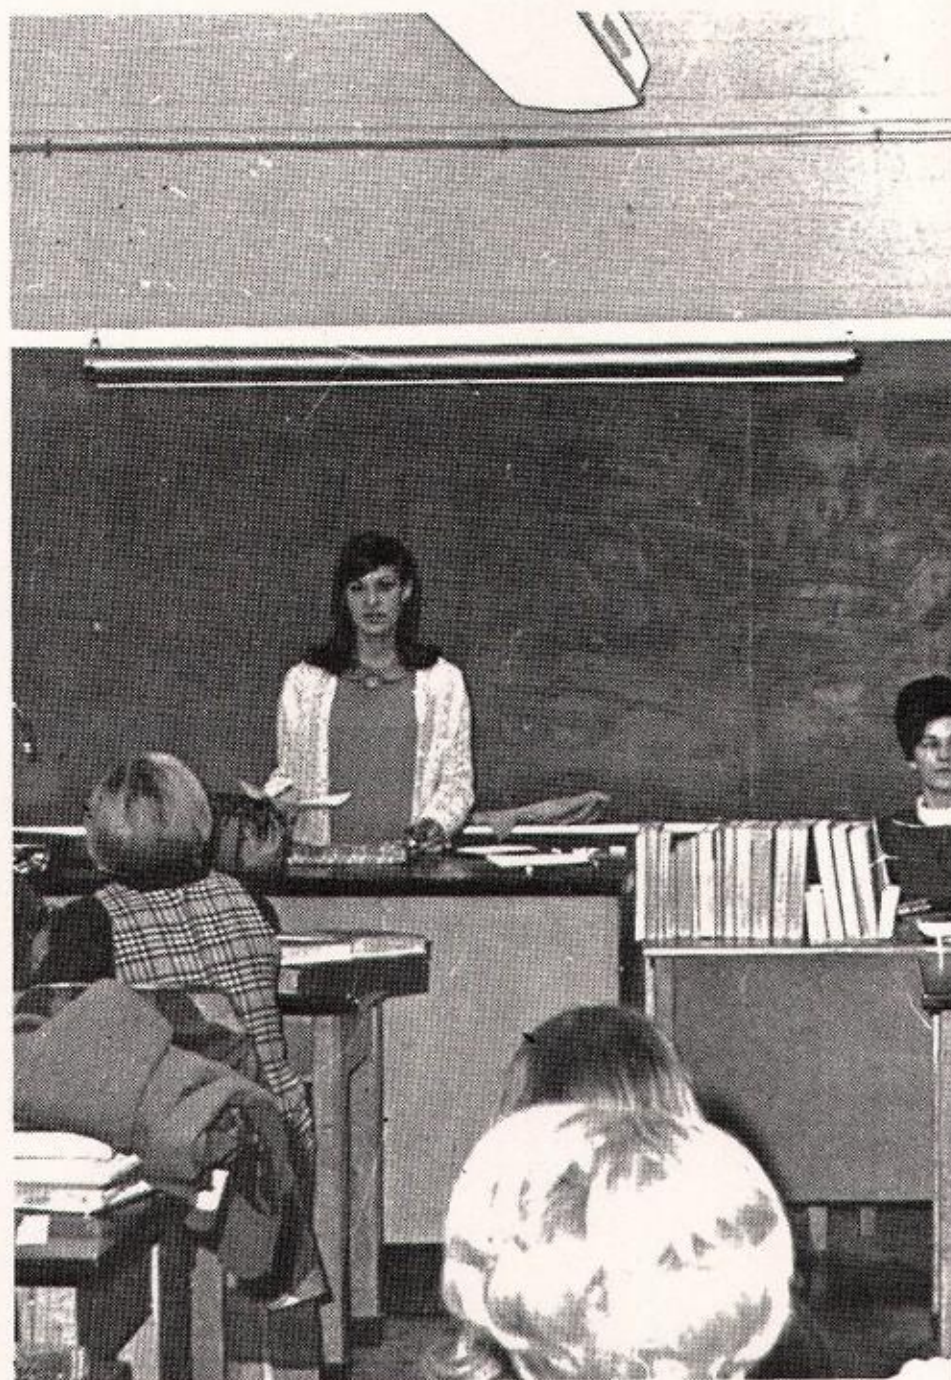

The Red Cross at East, comprised of representatives from each homeroom, joined the National Red Cross in its annual membership drive in November. Later in the year, the club, under the guidance of Miss Finch, made and collected toys for refugee children in Viet Nam.

The Y-Teens, one of East's most active service clubs, undertook several projects. The girls put much of their time toward caring for underprivileged children at South Tryon Church. Some other activities included escorting patients in the hospital to chapel and sending Christmas cards to the soldiers in Viet Nam. Affiliated with the Young Women's Christian Association, Y-Teens was advised by Mrs. Bumgardner.

Pep Club Gains New Advisor

With Mr. Hopkins as its new advisor, the Pep Club gave school-spirited students a chance to show their exuberance in various ways other than cheering at games. The Pep Club sought the promotion of all school activities and good school spirit. In connection with this goal, the club had former track star Jim Beatty speak on the subject of the usefulness of school spirit.

Homeroom and class presidents, standing committee chairmen, the I.C.C. President, and the exchange students formed the Student Council at East. For her eighth year, Miss Wayne advised the club.

"Get-Involved" was the theme that was carried out by the Council in its many projects. The Homecoming Dance and half-time and the Variety Show were sponsored by the Student Council.

Representatives from East's organization attended the State Convention in Kannapolis and the District Convention later in the spring. Workshops were held during the year to help the students gain skills of a democratic organization.

On Awards Day the Council gave an award to the Most Valuable Member, the club with the best school service, and the club with the best community service.

Honor Council Backs Honor System

Mike Ray and Mike Burnett diverge from the subject of the next honor week.

Chairmen of all Student Council committees, the Inter-Club Council President, and the officers of the Student Council were members of the Executive Council. Students who applied for the position were chosen by the incoming President of the Student Council and Miss Wayne. The Executive Council planned all Student Council projects and activities.

The Honor Council included more students elected directly by the student body. It was composed of Student Council officers, I.C.C. President, Honor committee co-chairmen, class presidents, the head cheerleader, and three others chosen by the President of the Student Council. The purpose of the Honor Council was to enforce the Honor System by helping those who came before the Council achieve a better understanding of the Honor System.

ICC Plans 1968 Beautification

President Bonnie Watts looks over the presents collected at the White Christmas program.

Scheduling and coordinating the activities of almost fifty clubs is the job of Inter-Club Council. In October I.C.C. kicked off the club year with the sophomore assembly, introducing the newcomers to East's organizations. During the preceding week each club advertised to draw new members.

I.C.C. is composed of elected presidents of chartered organizations, and the president of I.C.C. is elected by the student body in March.

In December I.C.C. sponsored the White Christmas Program. January was the month of the beautification project. This year the member clubs' donations were used to place benches for people waiting for rides.

Editor Margaret Monney confers with Delmar by telephone.

EAGLE Wins First Place Rating

Editor Alan Nagle guided East's much improved newspaper, the EAGLE, through a year of turbulent editorials and well written stories. Business manager Debbie Haan kept the EAGLE out of debt, while advisor Irene Hardee added an element of sanity to the staff.

Last year's efforts were rewarded by a first-place rating by the Southern Interscholastic Press Association.

On Awards Day the EAGLE gave the Eugene Payne Editorial Cartoon Award and the Kays Gary Journalism Award to the most outstanding students in these fields. The EAGLE staff member who had contributed the most was given the Charlotte Observer Most Valuable Staffer Award.

Eyrie Awards

Encourage Creativity

In May the EYRIE, a literary magazine of student writing and art, was published. EYRIE Week was held in October to encourage subscriptions to the magazine. The staff gave an award for the best poetry submission and one for the best prose submission.

The EYRIE staff was selected by the previous year's staff and the advisor after the students submitted applications. This year Mrs. Cooley was the advisor to staff. Many of the programs and activities were coordinated with those of the Creative Writing Club.

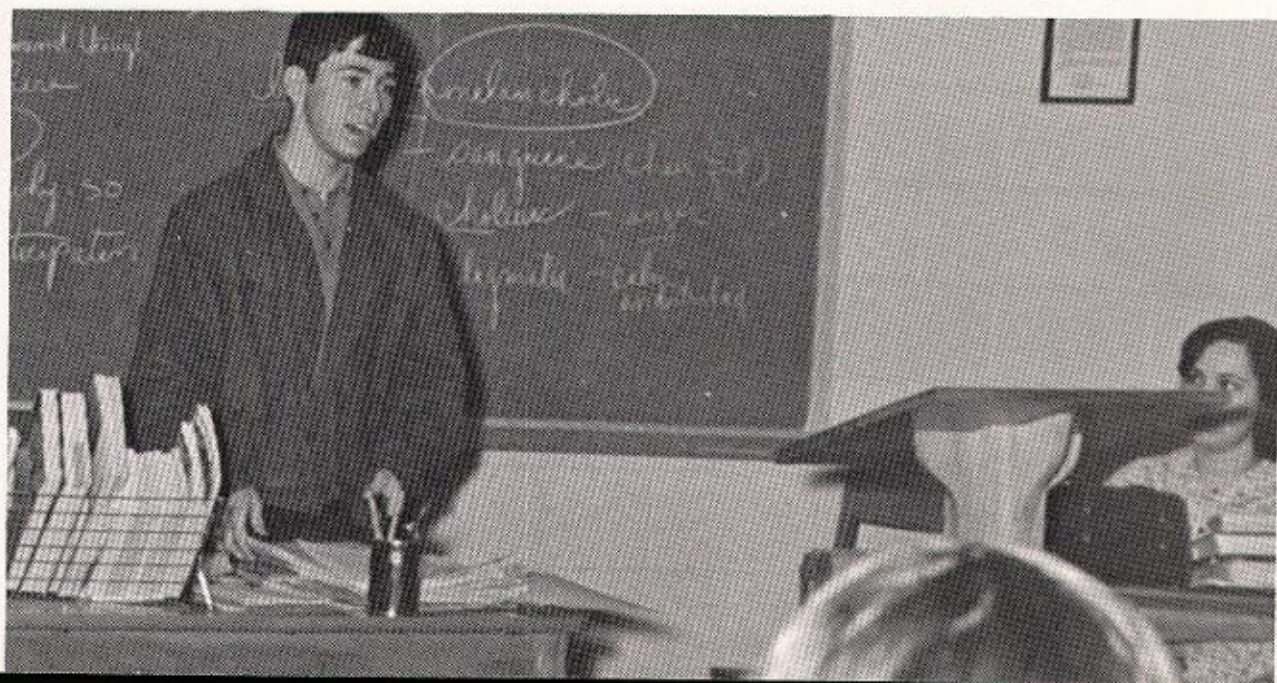

Mrs. Cooley gives instructions concerning the grading of the entries.

Associate Editor Cherie Sheppard concentrates on selecting the most original literary submissions.

Editor Mike Asbill prepares to distribute some compositions to the staff for grading.

Vice-president Collins Stukes demonstrates her amazing ability at pasting-up, the skill which won her election to Quill and Scroll.

As an honorary club for recognition of service to the EAST WIND, EYRIE, and EAGLE, the Quill and Scroll had no service projects this year. New members with B averages are inducted in the spring after receiving recommendations of their publications advisor and approval by members in the club. Later in the year the club planned to co-sponsor Publications Week.

Q-S Recognizes Young Journalists

Advisor Miss Irene Hardee also serves as advisor to the EAGLE.

Brian Evans, president, and member Curt Rush show mixed reactions to a discussion of literary techniques during half-time of the North game.

Charlotte Cooper displays her friendliness which won her position as mentor of the sophomores.

Orientation Teams Teach Sophs

Helping sophomores adjust to life at East is the job of the Orientation Committee. Headed this year by senior Charlotte Cooper, the committee members talked to sophomore home-rooms during the first two days of school about what they should expect of life at East. Mrs. Griffin acted as advisor, and she helped plan Howdy Week, the first week of school.

During the rest of the year, Orientation guides from each class showed new students around the school and helped them make new friends.

Plays Aided By AV Members

Service to the student body is the Audio-Visual Club's main objective, and it succeeded this year, as it has in the past, in giving valuable time and service to both faculty and students. The AV club donated a Roberts stereo tape recorder last year. With it the club provided music on the senior patio in the fall. Technical work in this season's plays was again done by the club. Members were on call to operate the school's AV equipment.

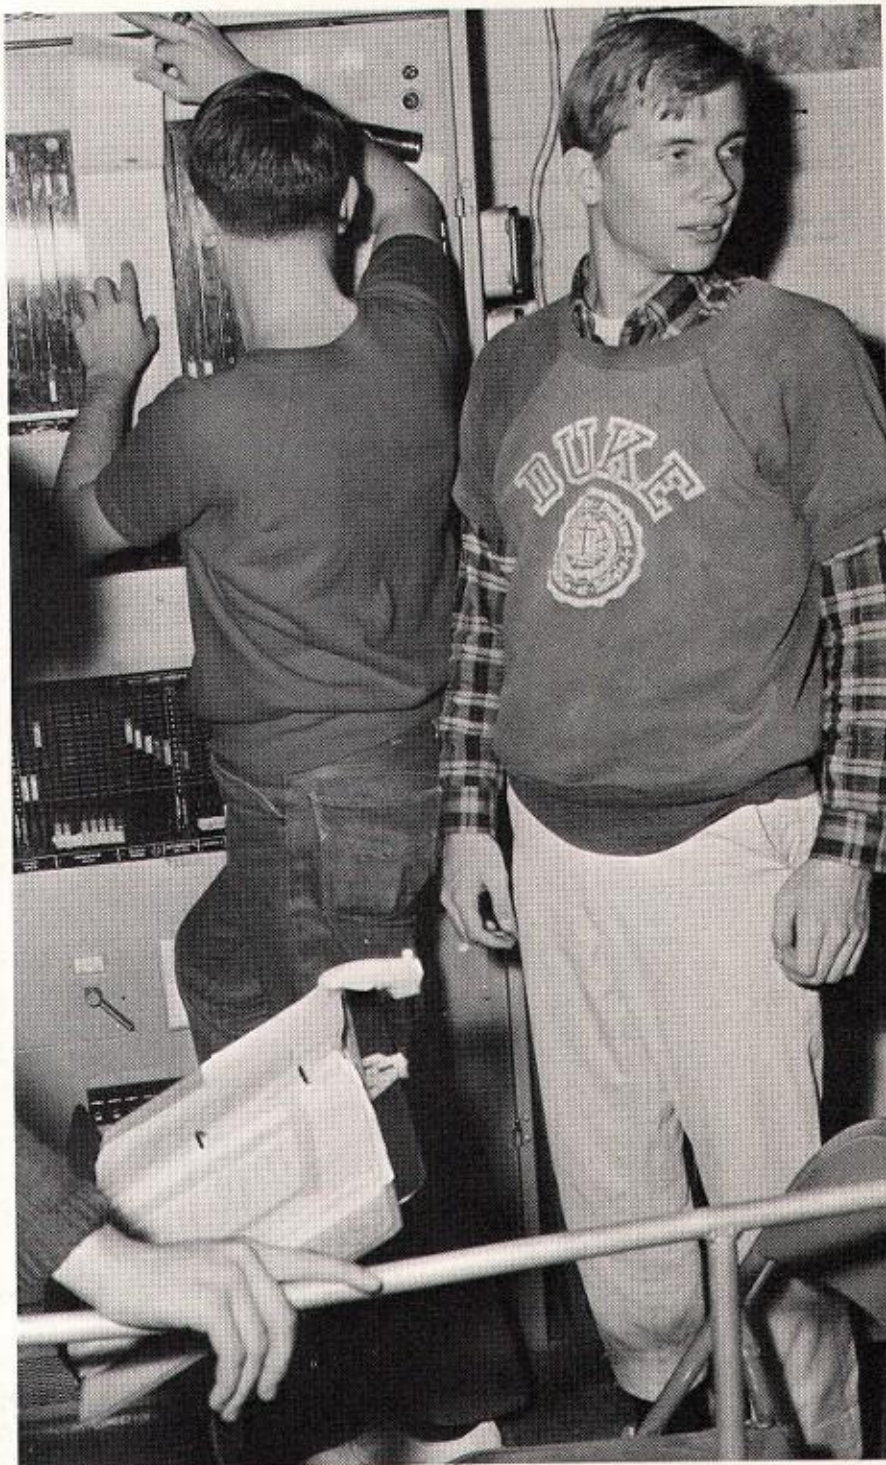

Advisor Mrs. Covington and an AV equipment salesman discuss operation techniques.

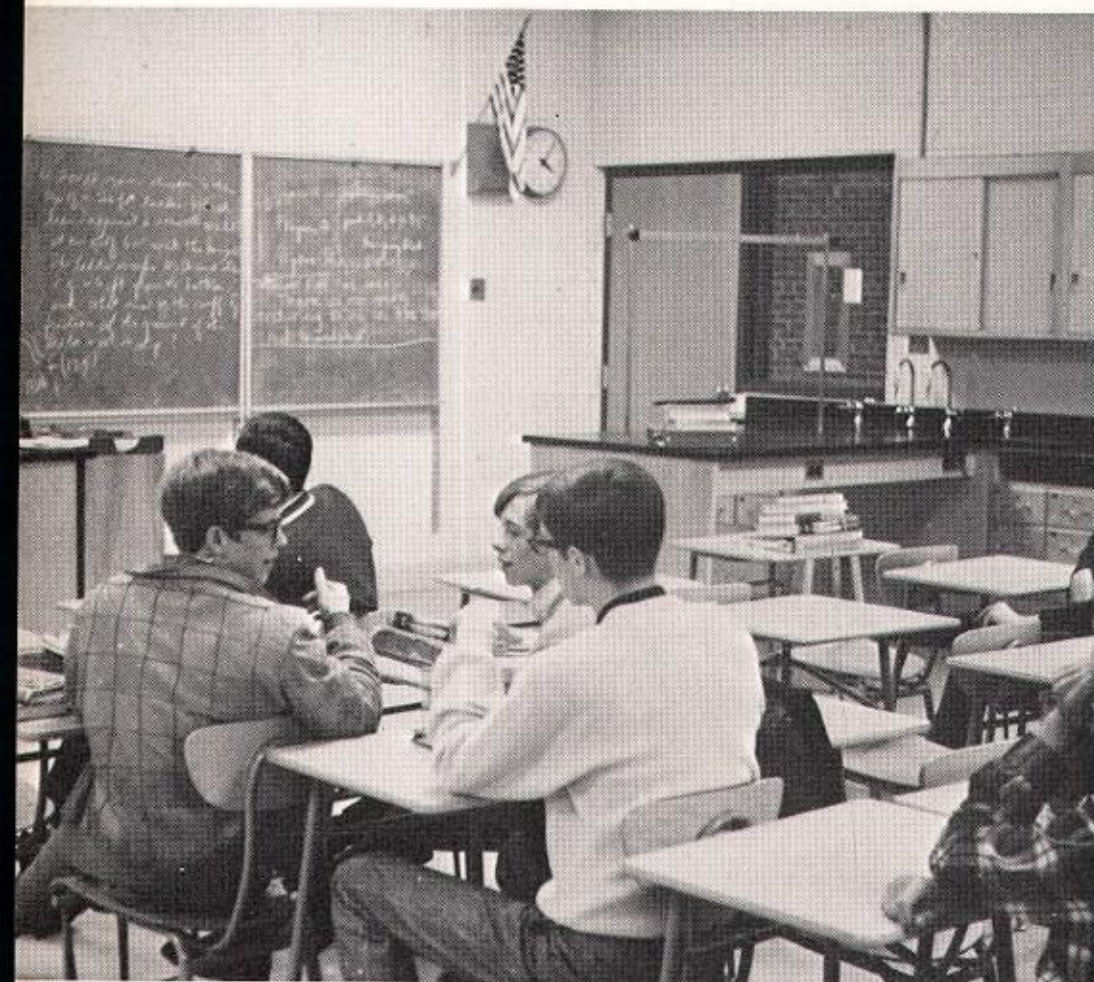

The stereo recorder is tested by Bob Johnson.

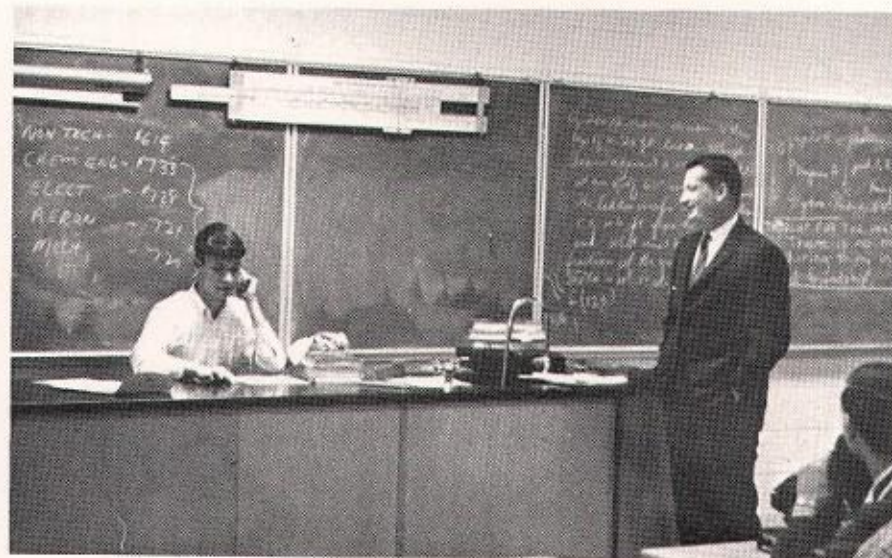

President Charlie Coulter expresses obvious enthusiasm backstage.

Some of the future engineers discuss the expanding opportunities in that field.

Mike Rhyne, president, welcomes the guest speaker to an afternoon meeting.

The Engineers Club, advised by Mr. Crawley, opened its membership to anyone who was planning a career in the field of engineering.

To encourage future engineers, guest speakers from businesses related to engineering visited the club and spoke to the members. The club also planned field trips to such businesses.

Science, Engineers Explore Job Opportunities

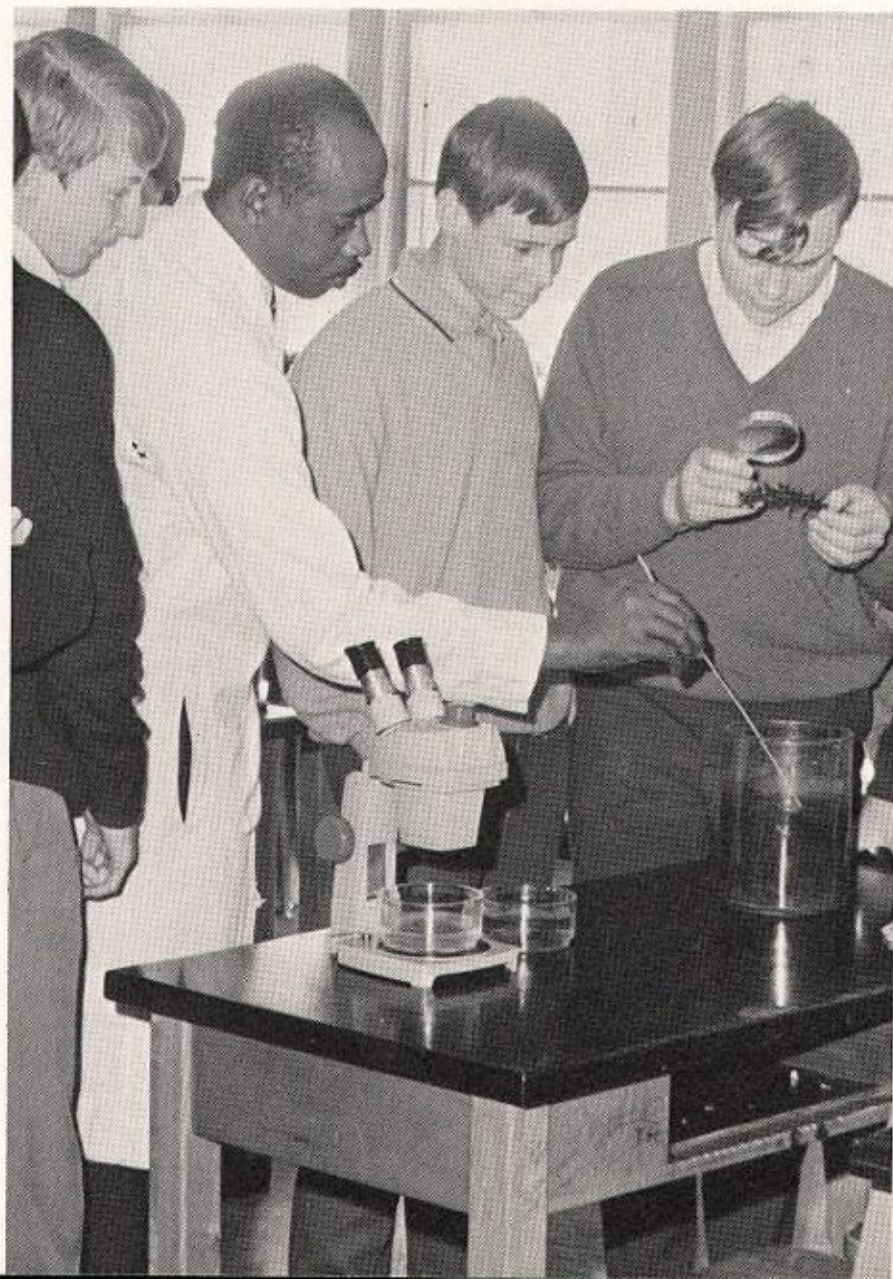

For students interested in the biological field of science, the Science Club promoted projects and research in that area.

The Science Club sponsored the school-wide Science Fair, in which the projects were judged and awards were given.

President Shelia Bailey and the other members watch as Mr. Young displays various water plants.

All eyes are turned toward the glass jar as they watch various demonstrations.

Ham Operators Join Radio Club

East's Radio Club began rebuilding their ham station WA40VQ. It planned to raise money to buy a receiver and amplifier and to repaint their room used for operation of equipment. Any student enthusiastic about ham radio operation was invited to join. Barbara Ward served as president, with Mr. Caskey as advisor.

President Beverly Lakeson, foreground, listens to the program.

Beverly Lakeson and Mrs. Hooker discuss the plans for the meeting.

A group of members examines a radiogram they received.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Hooker, the health occupations teacher, the Health Careers Club tried to steer interested students into fields of medicine, research, and nursing. The club is sponsored by the Presbyterian Hospital Auxiliary. Some of the members served as volunteer workers in local hospitals. Beverly Lakeson acted as president.

Youth Council New At East

During an organizational meeting of East's Youth Council, Miss Wayne lends her advice.

Although it is not an official club at East, the Charlotte Youth Council is represented by chairman Betsy Carroll in Student Council and Inter-Club Council. The council is an attempt by Charlotte teens to establish better relationships between youth and adults.

A major project has been to open the Pot Coffee House, supported by the sale of coffee by various city organizations. The Council also presented the School Sportsmanship award and the School Spirit Award at the end of the year.

Chairman Betsy Carroll types a list of members.

Treasurer Brian Evans tries to conceal his guilty look after pilfering French Club funds.

Culture Stressed In French Club

Curt Rush, president, tells the club about the play TARTUFFE.

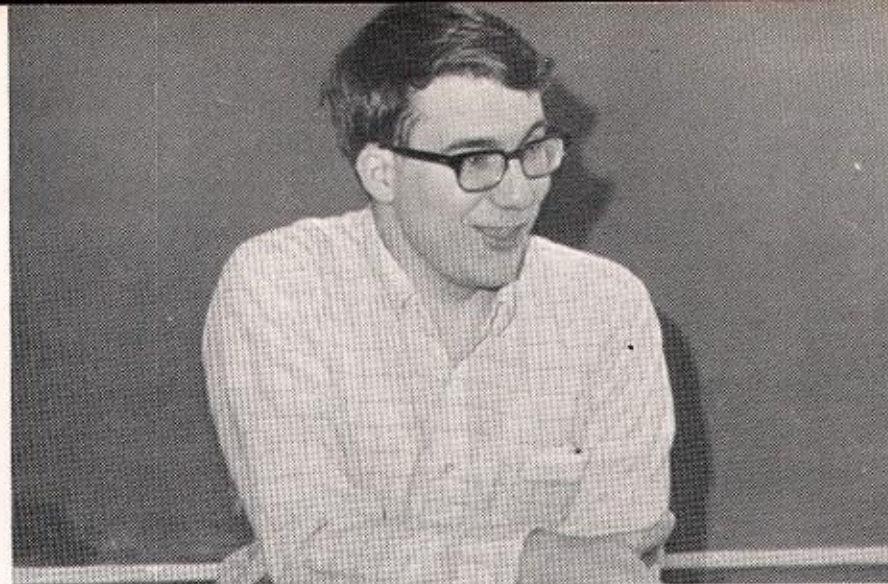

Acquainting its members with French culture and heritage is one main objective of the French Club. Programs included reports on French customs, samples of food, guest speakers and movies.

The highlight of the club's year was French Week, during which East was decorated with a French flavor. The climax of the week was the French banquet at which French cuisine was served, and next year's officers were installed.

Sponsored by the Junior Classical League of North Carolina, the Latin Club aimed to help the members know more about Roman culture and the Latin language.

In the spring, the club held their annual Latin Banquet during Latin Week.

The Latin Club, advised by Mrs. Purvis, joined with the French and Spanish clubs by publicizing the Christmas Dance and providing refreshments.

"So you're the one who told me that Julius Caesar was a Persian."

Spanish Decorations Add Spirit To Christmas

East's Spanish Club was made up of students taking Spanish who were enthusiastic about learning the Spanish culture. As one of their projects, the club collected money for UNICEF.

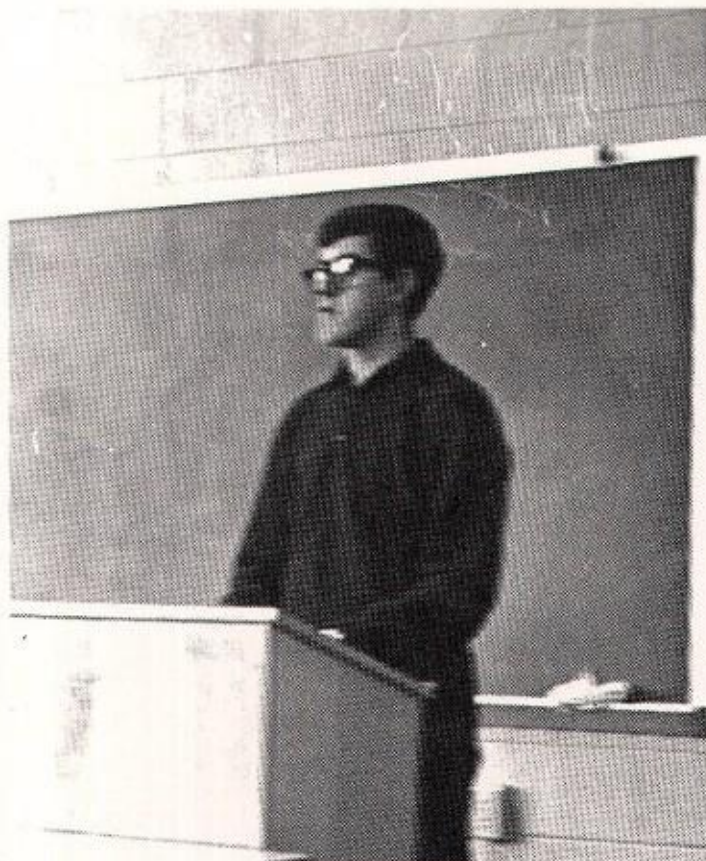

Before Christmas, the halls at East were decorated by the club for Spanish Week. The climax of the week was the Christmas Dance which was sponsored by the three language clubs.

Jay Andrews leads the discussion for proposed plans for the Christmas Dance.

Committees for Spanish Week spent part of several meetings planning.

F.B.L.A., D.E. Guide Business Careers

Robin Bolno, president, introduces a guest speaker.

Future Business Leaders of America and Distributive Education are East's two business clubs.

D.E. students won honors in their fields this year. Nancy Naugle placed first in the job interview contest, and Jeanne Bass won first place in the D. E. Sweetheart Contest.

F.B.L.A. participated in Business Education Day, and helped its members to choose a profitable position in the business world of today and tomorrow. Mr. Carriker acted as advisor.

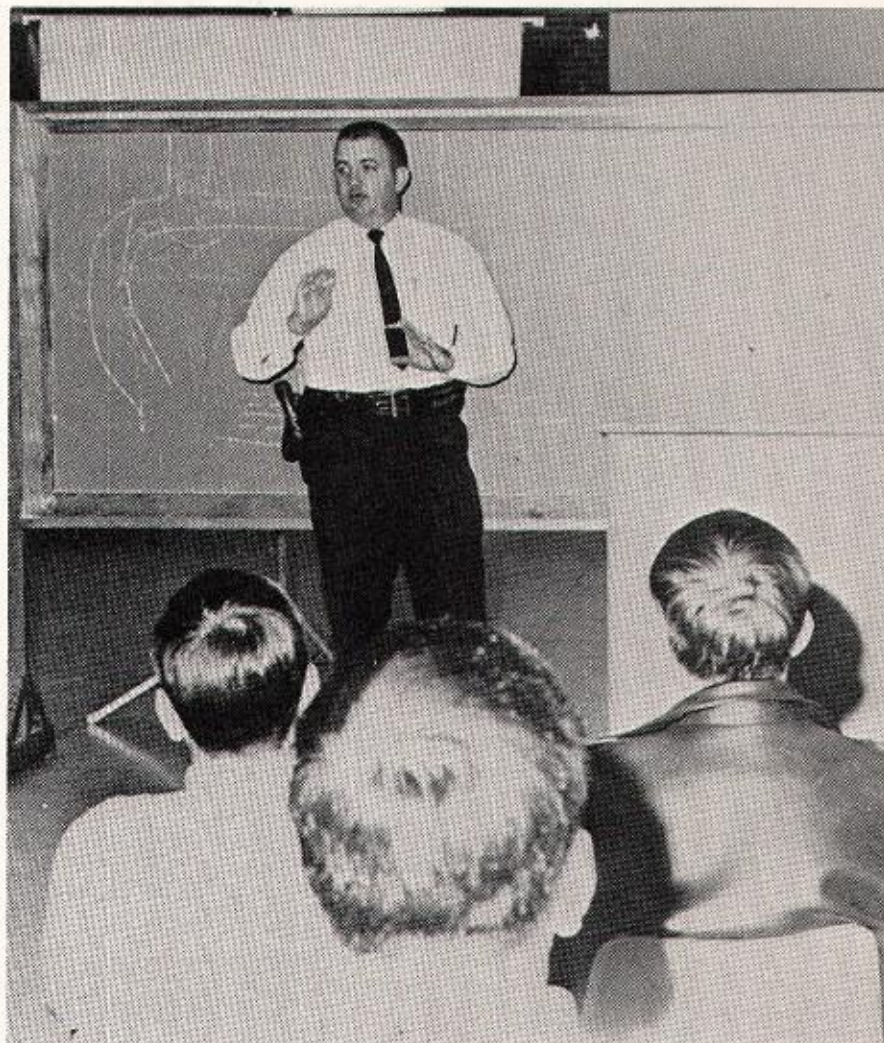

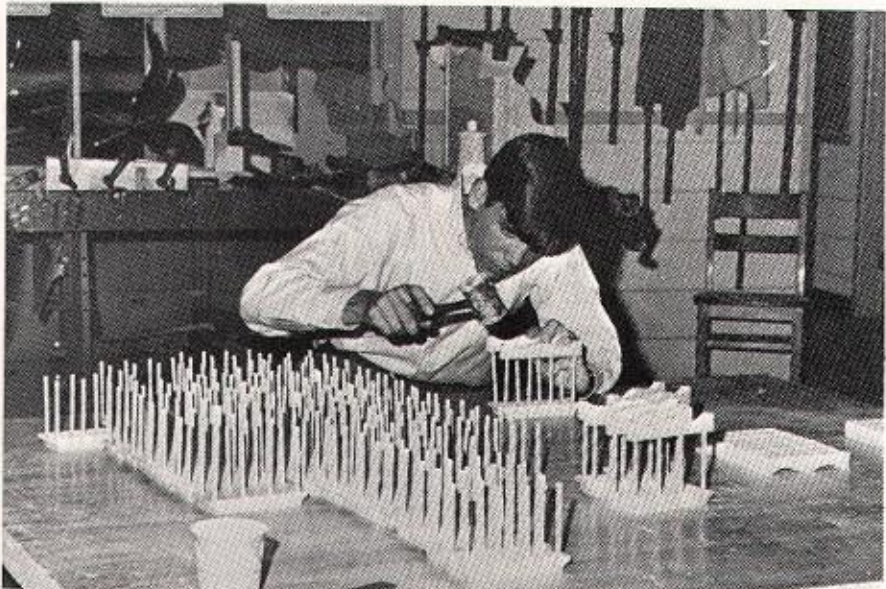

President Dickie Parks and the gang partake of a little refreshment after a hard morning of bus driving.

Eric Reichard, president, assembles napkin holders while Mr. Benton readies material for the next project.

Gary Walters works on a club project.

A policeman explains the technique of driving a bus with the greatest amount of safety possible.

Two New Clubs Promote Skills

Two of East's newer clubs are the Bus Driver's Safety Club and the Industrial Arts Club.

The Bus Drivers Club is advised by Mr. Jaynes. Its purpose is indicated by its name: to promote safety in bus driving here at East.

The Industrial Arts Club, advised by Mr. Benton, is in its first year of operation. The club's purpose is to provide money-making projects for other clubs to sell, and at the same time to give its own members opportunities for extra shop practice.

FHA And FTA Award Outstanding Participants

The Future Teachers of America presented two awards to outstanding members of the club. A scholarship and a service award were given on Awards Day to students who intended to be teachers.

With the assistance of Mrs. Swofford, the club arranged programs on education of the handicapped and sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day.

The Future Homemakers of America Club at East collected items for the Bethlehem Center which distributed them to needy children. In October the members, with Miss Williams and Mrs. Hatfield, attended a district rally in Gastonia.

For each level of home economics, the best student was awarded a degree emblem on Honors Day.

PTA, Boosters Serve East

In the fall the PTA sponsored a benefit bridge and used profits to buy a new grand piano for the choral music department. Several paper drives were held to raise money to hire a secretary for Mr. Pittman. The annual barbecue was held in March. May 3 was International Day at East, a new project initiated by PTA. Mrs. Scott Francis was president.

Mr. William Craven served as president of Boosters Club. They undertook the thankless job of running the concession stand at football games, and they supported East's athletic events.

A group of parents listens as Mr. Starnes explains the course of study in choral music.

Mrs. Francis, left, watches as Jill Ray plays the piano bought with funds from the PTA Bridge.

Track Team Sets School Records

East's track team again enjoyed a successful season when it defeated one hundred nineteen of one hundred thirty-one teams encountered and broke school records in the 440 relay, mile relay, low hurdles, and individual points. According to Coach Williams, outstanding team members were Mac Crews, Chuck Howard, Don Swofford, and Bill Shaver. Shaver, Howard, and Crews were given Most Valuable Player awards.

Bob Fuller crosses the finish line first at the Conference Meet.

Prospects Good For '68 Season

Randy Therrell makes a play at first.

1968 prospects get in shape for the coming season.

East takes to the field against Independence.

A disappointing record of five wins and eleven losses was the result of East's 1967 baseball season. The only teams the Eagles defeated were South, Hunter Huss, Garinger, and Myers Park. Third baseman Gary Wiley, who hit in the .300's for most of the season, was the team's most outstanding player. Catcher Rick Shaw served as captain of the team, and Mr. David Jones was coach.

Prospects for the 1968 season are excellent. Thirteen of the sixteen members of last year's team will be eligible to play, as only Jim Crawford, Steve Phillips, and Rick Shaw graduated in 1967.

Standing safely on second base is Phil Edwards.

Ervin Smith expresses his sympathy to the Myers Park Mustang he has just defeated.

Outstanding play by juniors Mike Burnett and Ervin Smith boosted the 1967 tennis team to a district championship with a 12-1 record. Out of one hundred eight matches played only ten were lost, as only three of twelve teams could score on the Eagles. East's only defeat was at the hands of Shelby by a score of 5-4. The team was also successful in state competition, having finished fourth in the state championship.

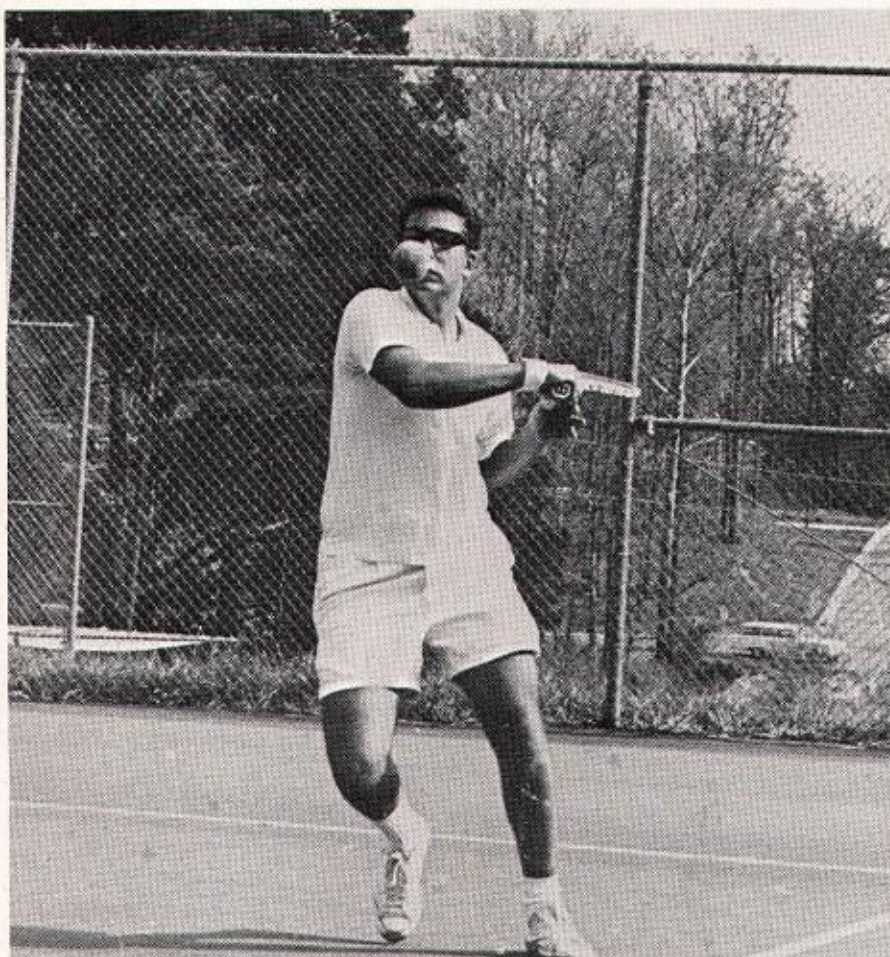

The prospects for the 1968 season are excellent. Both Burnett, who held the number one position, and Smith, who held the number two position, will return to play for their third consecutive season.

Coach Haywood Hamilton's golf team made its best showings in district and conference meets. Although the season record was 35-20, East placed second in the district, sixth in the conference, and eleventh in the state. Davis Williams was named Most Valuable Player from the golf team for the second straight year at the Sports Banquet last spring.

Eagles Run And

Trying to outsmart North's safetyman is halfback Don Swofford.

Take the powerful running of half-backs Gary Wiley, Don Babcock, and Norris Jackson and fullback Jim Forbis. Add outstanding passing from quarterbacks Randy Therrell and Melvin Aycoth to Jackson, Wiley, and ends David Baker and Doug Munroe. Mix with inspired performances by reserve backs Don Swofford, Jeff Bost, and Steve Ruhl. Then thicken with the basic ingredient of the offensive line led by center Jim Tomanek, junior guards Marshall Shipp and Clay Hartsell, tackles Glenn Tadlock and Danny Revels, and ends Baker and Jack Lawless. Serve with a defense including Tom Watkins, Tomanek, Jerry Helms, Munroe, Jim Forbis, Dale Babcock, and Don Swofford and you have East football 1967. Chef Don Hipps combined these ingredients in precise proportions to produce one of the best teams in East's history.

Of course, it wasn't all roses. There was a disappointing loss to Kannapolis in the opening game and a tie with a supposedly weak Hunter Huss team. (continued on page 84)

Halfback Wiley breaks away from Independence defenders for a touchdown.

Dale Babcock (35), Bob Johnson (52), and other East defensive stalwarts rush for a loose ball.

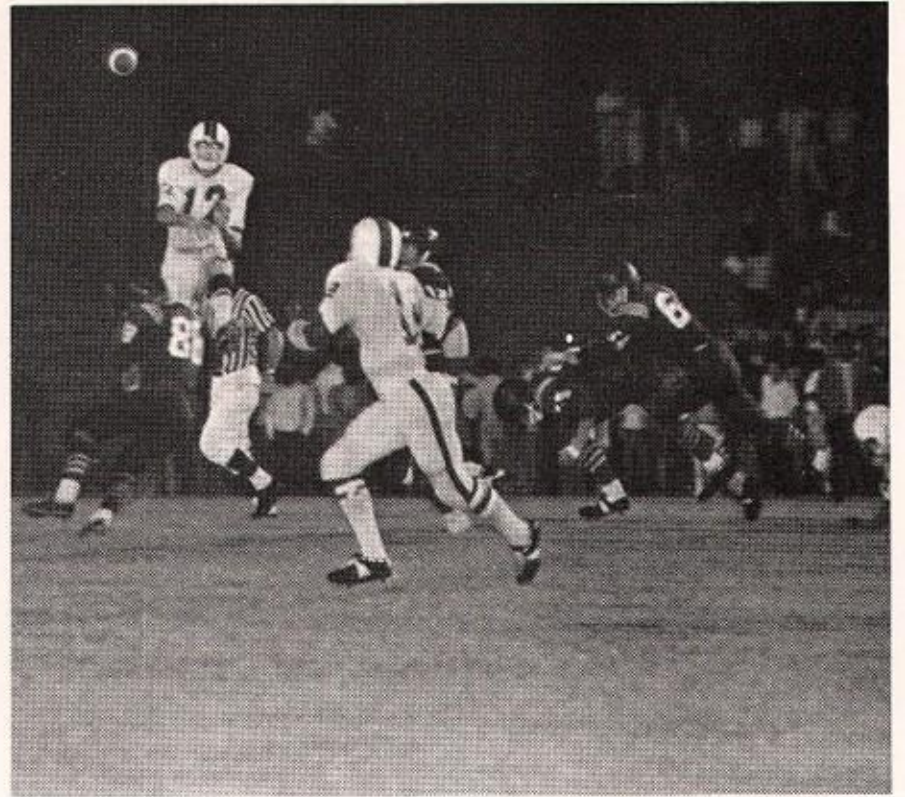

East Downs Myers Park 20-7

But there were some brilliant performances between the bad ones. A previously undefeated North team was defeated 14-0 by an inspired East effort. Gary Wiley scored four touchdowns and four extra points to help smother Independence 40-20. And Myers Park was downed 20-7 in East's first victory over the Mustangs in fifteen years. East school spirit reached a peak with the season's last game against South. A win would have given East the District 6 Championship. East's chances looked good as East's Mike Stewart and Jerry Helms intercepted South passes to set up two touchdowns early in the first half. East's 12-0 halftime lead, however, was destroyed as South's defense held East scoreless in the second half as their offense racked up twenty points.

Several Eagles were conferred with post season honors. Glenn Tadlock, offensive right tackle, Jim Forbis, defensive linebacker, Jim Tomanchek, center, and Don Swofford, defensive safety, were chosen first-string all-county players. Jim Tomanchek was also selected to play in the Shrine Bowl, the highest honor given to high school gridgers.

Eaglets Overcome Harding

Coach Leroy Holden's first year at East was a successful one as he directed the junior varsity football team to a record of seven wins, two losses, and one tie. According to Coach Holden, the Harding contest was the best of the season. Two spectacular touchdown plays, one on a seventy-five yard pass from Roger Price to Steve Weekley, the other an eighty yard run by Scott Creveling, boosted the Eaglets over the Rams 19-13.

Coach Holden cited quarterbacks Joe Thompson and Gary Purcell, backs Timmy Helms, Mike Oglesby, and Roger Price, and linemen Bill Archer and Gene Garland as the players most likely to succeed on the varsity next year.

Hecht, Matthews Pace Harriers

The cross-country team posted a record of seventeen wins and twenty-three losses. Teams defeated by the Eagles in season competition were Catholic, Independence, Garinger, North, and Olympic. Seniors Bobby Hecht and Fred Matthews were top runners for this team, which placed sixth in the Southwestern 4A meet and fourth in the Western Sectional Meet. Other team members were seniors Paul Boyer, Tom Anderson, and Chuck Farrington, juniors Keith Halstead and John Stevens, and sophomores Ken Robinson and Craig Schillhahn.

Soccer Team Makes State Finals

East's soccer team booted its way into the state finals before being headed off by Fayetteville 3-2 in double overtime. After compiling a season record of 7-1-1, the squad made a clean sweep of the District Championship at Pfeiffer College, defeating South and Myers Park. The most outstanding facet of the team, according to exchange coach John Harris, was its halfback line composed of Clyde Baucom, Howard Nicholson, and Charlie Epps. Fullbacks Rob Marshall and Bob Allen were defensive stars, and offensive standouts were Cyrus Sassanpour, the team's high scorer, Bill Bar, Jimmy Thompson, and captain Pete Voorhees.

Cagers Finish Second

Eddie Payne orbits a jumper.

Uncle Baker wants YOU!

A strong outside attack led by junior guards Norris Crigler and Eddie Payne and excellent rebounding by junior center Fred Baker, senior center Mike Terry, and senior forwards Gordie Cherry, James Jackson, and Jack Lawless boosted East's cagers to a 13-7 season record and a second place standing in District 6 of the Southwestern 4A Conference. The Eagles didn't fare quite so well in the Conference Tournament, however. After defeating Olympic by a score of 70-60, East was upset 54-47 by South and eliminated from the semi-finals and finals of the tournament.

Only five teams defeated the Eagles in season play in 1967. West Charlotte and Asheville's Edwards High School each dealt East two losses, and Rock Hill, Second Ward, and Hunter Huss scored single victories. The Rock Hill, Second Ward, and Hunter Huss games were considered upsets, while West Charlotte, which finished first in District 6 of the Southwestern 4A Conference and won the Conference Tournament, and Asheville staged more decisive wins over East.

The 1967 cage record consists of five distinct winning and losing streaks. After winning in six of seven starts, East dropped two games to Asheville and Rock Hill. The team gained momentum and ran another winning streak to four games before being tripped up by the two West Charlotte games and losses to Asheville and Hunter Huss. The season was finished with another series of three wins.

The two best games of the season were the first contests with Ashley and Independence. In the fourth game of the season, East kept its undefeated record intact by overcoming a 23 point deficit in the second half to defeat Ashley, defending state 4A champions. Guard Eddie Payne poured in 37 points against Independence to help down the Patriots 103-72. Norris Crigler added 29 points in helping to rack up a team score that is only one field goal short of the local prep record.

Crigler, with a game average of 14.7 points, was East's highest scorer. Norris was honored for his outstanding back-court work by being named one of ten all-Southwestern 4A Conference Tournament players. Likely candidates for all-county players as named by Charlotte newspapers are East's entire first string of Crigler, Eddie Payne, Gordie Cherry, James Jackson, and Fred Baker. Captains of this year's squad were seniors Jimmy Forbis and Ervin Smith.

J.V.'s Edged Out Of Tournament

East's j.v. cagers were eliminated from the finals of the Southwestern 4A Conference by West Charlotte's Lions by a score of 56-55. In previous tournament play, the Eaglets smashed Olympic 89-60. In season play, they posted a 14-6 record, scoring an average of 54.7 points per game and yielding an average of 47.8 points.

The team's best scoring averages were held by Mark Little and Wilbur Bell. According to Coach Haywood Hamilton, Clayton Love and Mike Miller were two of the best competitors on the squad, and center Norman Marcel showed a great deal of promise. The best games of the season were the second game with Asheville, which East won 63-57, the first game with West Charlotte, which the Eaglets took 60-54, and the first game with South, in which East smothered the Sabres 61-41.

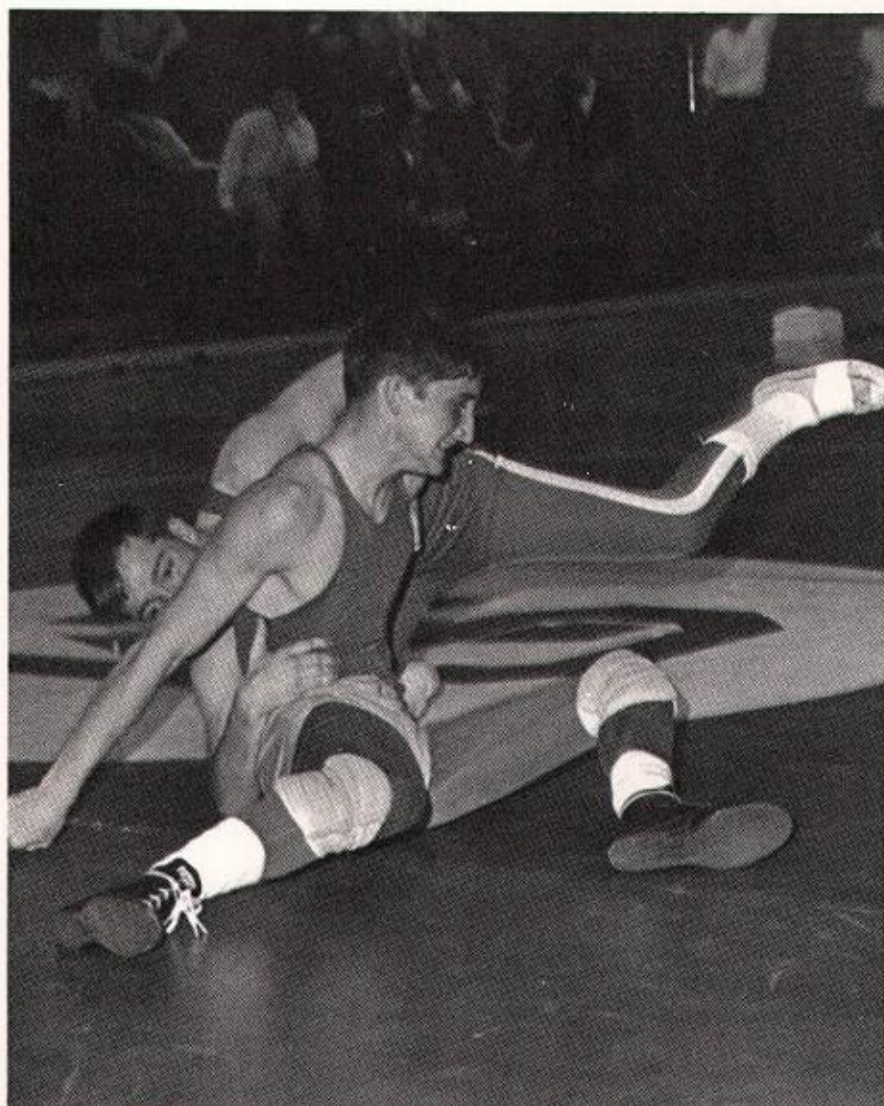

Coach Hamilton gives his team some words of advice during a time-out.

Rip McAdams executes a reversal on an opponent from South.

In his second year at East, Jim Hayes coached the wrestling team to a 9-1 record, the best season in the school's history. The season's single loss was by five points to Myers Park, the team that later won the state championship. Dwight Barron, wrestling at 112 pounds this year, took his second state championship after finishing the season undefeated and unscored on. Raymond Hudson (95 pounds) was also undefeated, and placed third in his class in the Western District Tournament. Bill Efird (180 pounds), co-captain with Barron, lost only one match during the season as did Johnny Hill (165 pounds), who placed first in the district.

East wrestlers who participated in the State Tournament were Barron, Hudson, Hill, sophomore David Cowles, first in the district at 103 pounds, Carl Schilkowsky, fourth in the district at 197 pounds, David Autry, fourth in the district at 145 pounds, Clay Hartsell, third in the district at 154 pounds, and Rick Vees, second in the district at 120 pounds. As a team, East tied with Reidsville for fifth place in the State Tournament.

With the season almost half completed, East's swimming team had posted a record of one win over South and four losses, two to Myers Park and two to North. The team's most consistent swimmers included Richard Bober and John Netzorg in the hundred yard freestyle, John Autrey in the hundred yard breast stroke, and Richard Urban in the two hundred and four hundred yard freestyles. Norris Crigler and John Bos were the team's outstanding divers.

Cheerleaders G

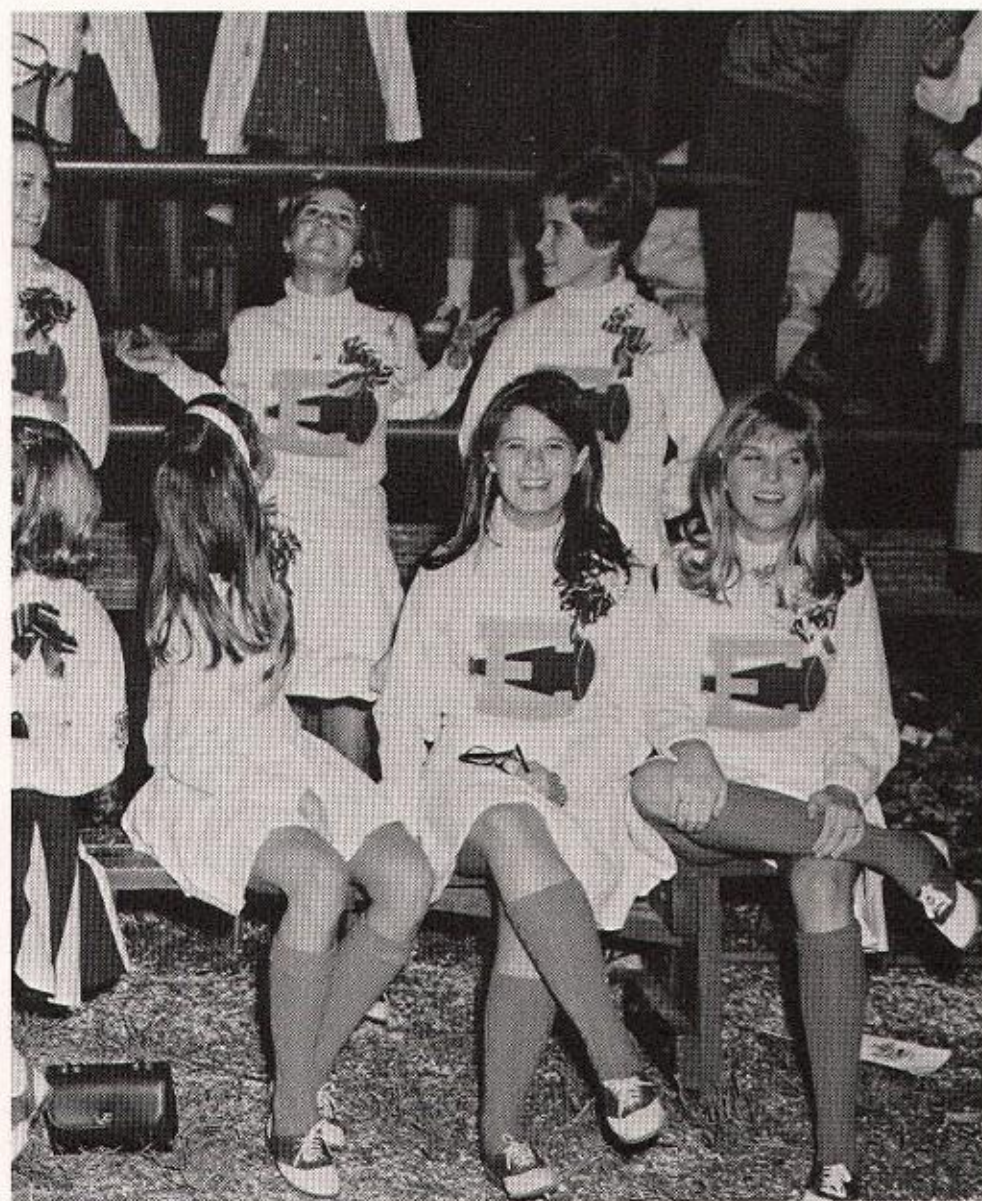

As usual, the cheerleaders kept quite busy during the football and basketball seasons by cheering East squads on to victories or defeats. The year began for the six senior and three junior girls with an annual beach trip, where old cheers were practiced and some new cheers devised. Other activities included selling booster tags, making posters, decorating stadiums before football games, and sponsoring the Mr. and Miss Basketball contest. The cheerleaders showed their support of other East athletic teams by accompanying the soccer team to Chapel Hill for the state tournament.

The junior varsity cheerleaders served in the same capacity as their varsity counterparts in supporting the junior varsity teams.

Lettergirls Organized

Since they were a newly formed group at East, the lettergirls encountered some problems in getting organized at first. But soon rules were formed, a constitution was written, and the lettergirls became a welcome addition to the school. The lettergirls were seen most often marching with the band. Other duties included helping promote school spirit at basketball games, working at the concession stand in the gym in the afternoon, and helping in pep rallies. The girls also traveled to Chapel Hill with the soccer team for the state soccer tournament. Advisor to the lettergirls was Mr. Venditti, the band director.

Administration Runs School Efficiently

Mr. Jaynes prepares excuses for the next day's absentees.

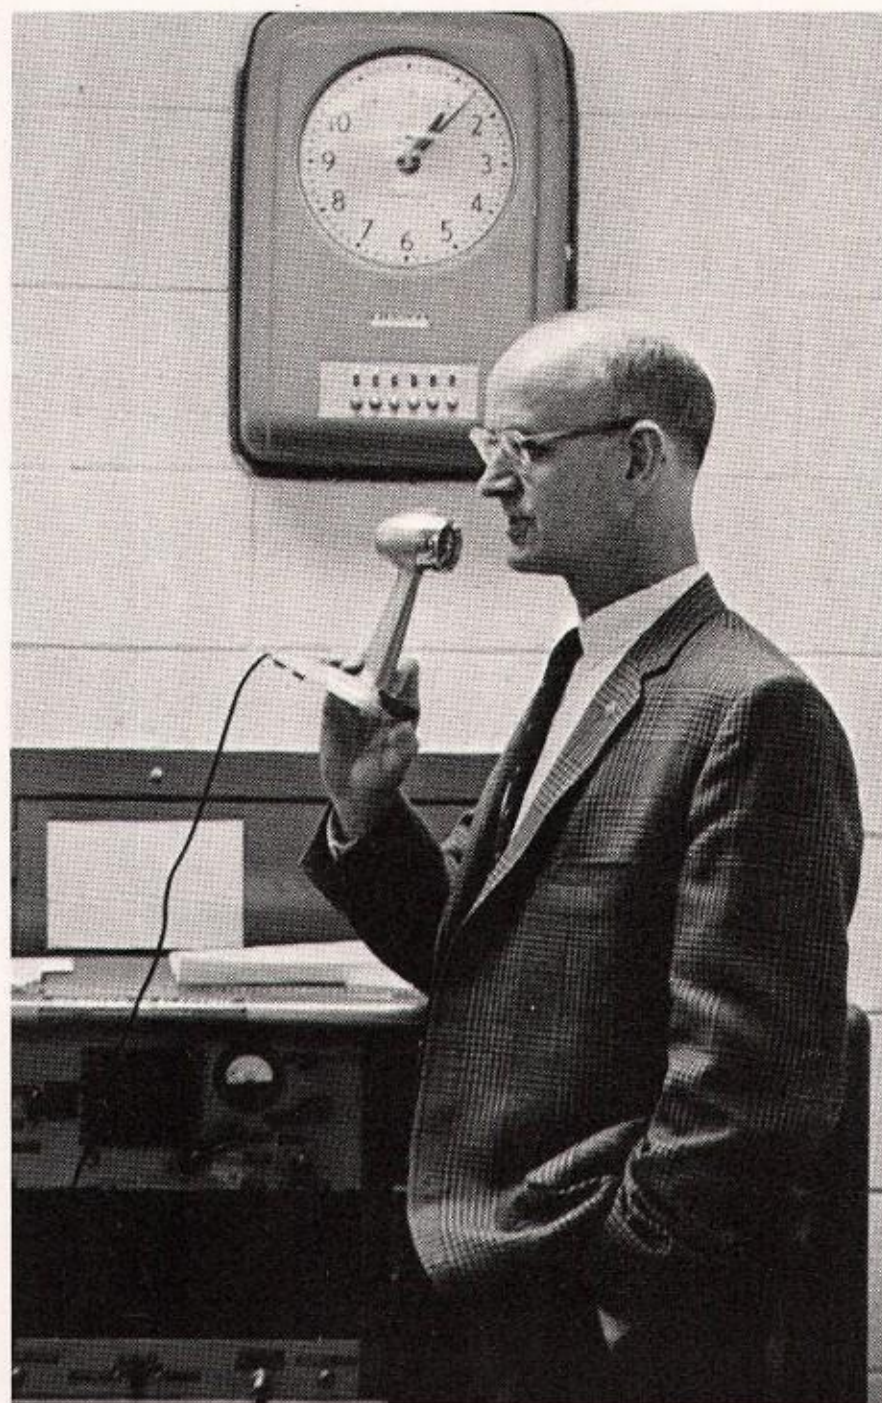

"Oh, another prank call," sighs Mrs. Duke.

The administration led by Mr. Pittman has kept the school running smoothly while students and teachers went on with the task of learning. We have many reasons to take pride in Mr. Pittman and the tradition he has set at East. He has inspired many teachers and students to do their best.

Mr. Jaynes, as assistant principal, is responsible for keeping attendance and maintaining discipline. He has also solved many of our transportation problems. Most students know Mrs. Duke, the school secretary, in her capacity as operator of the school store. Few realize that she is also responsible for most of the paper work and bookkeeping at school.

Mr. Pittman pauses to catch his breath during a busy day.

Guidance assistants became familiar with census cards.

Miss Wright types another Senior transcript.

Guidance Office Councils, Schedules Students

Miss Griffin considers a schedule change.

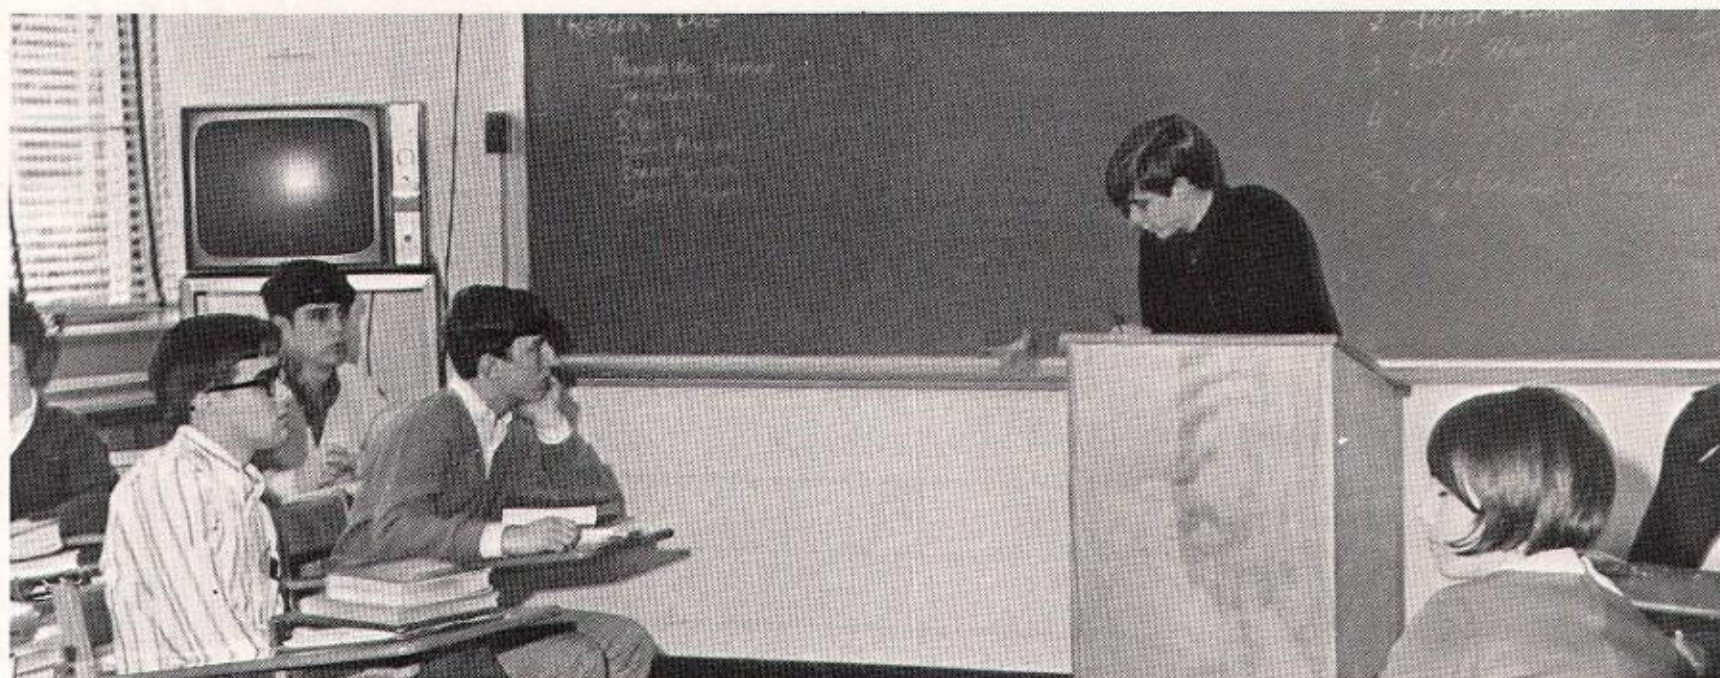

The guidance counselors have helped many students settle all sorts of problems, but they not only helped with personal problems, but they gave aid in selecting college and vocations. The counselors copied and sent transcripts to colleges for seniors and they helped other seniors find jobs. The guidance office worked with the computer to schedule classes and with the orientation steering committee to help sophomores adjust themselves to life at East.

Visual Aids encourage student interest in sophomore English class.

Mr. Hopkins makes a point in English 10 Class.

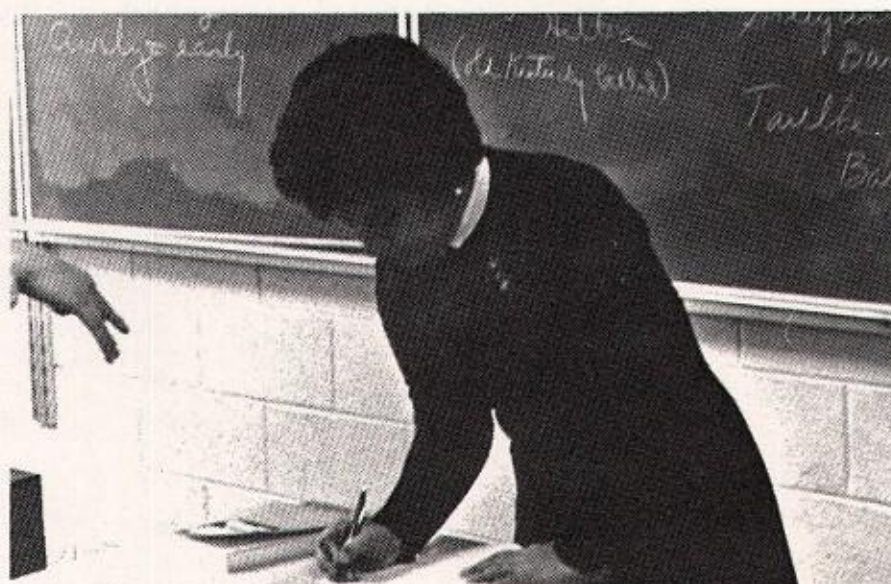

Journalism is a significant part of the offerings of the English department.

English Department Greet

New Members

English, the one required subject during all three years at East, gave students greater facility in using their language and deeper appreciation of literature. Miss Parker, chairman of the department, guided the department in establishing its purposes. In this year of transition, our English department greeted seven new members: Mrs. Barringer, Mrs. Brawley, Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Grain, Miss McLean, and Mr. Whaley. East's drama department was a source of pride for this school. All of the five of the plays and one musical were notable.

Miss Parker corrects student essay.

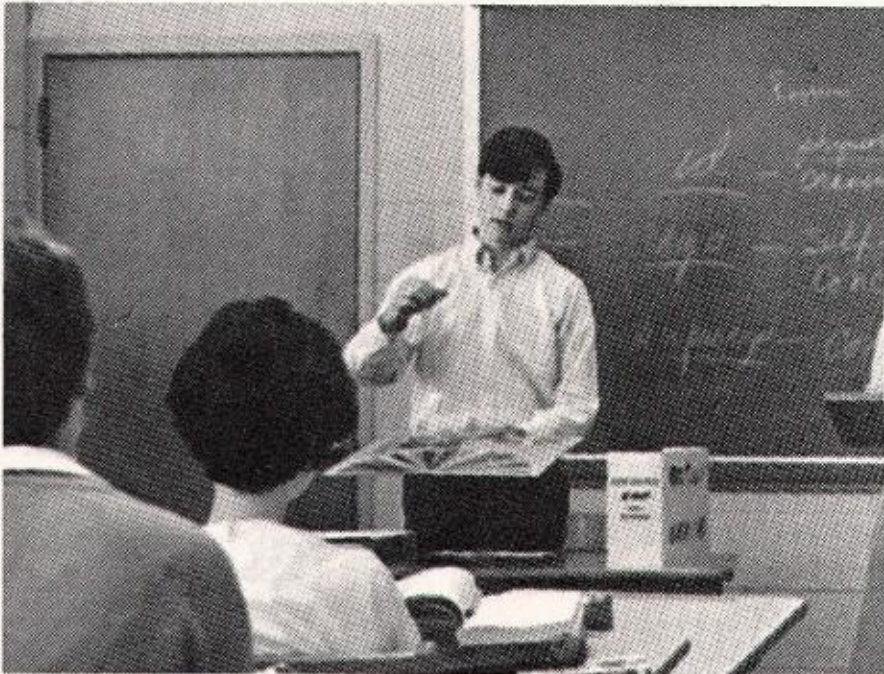

Better Citizens Emerge From Social Studies

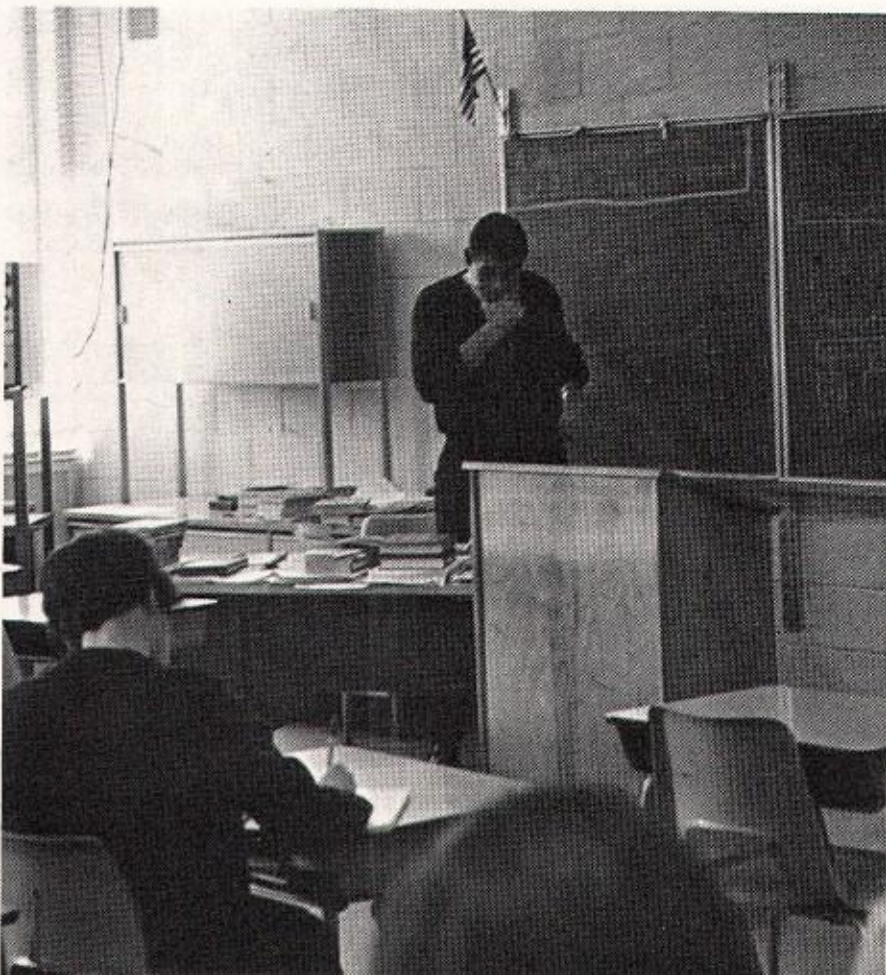

The history curriculum proposed to teach students the relationship of past events with present and future happenings. Teachers added to the social studies department were Mrs. Finley, Miss Dendy, Mrs. Ledford, and Mrs. Grain. Other courses such as contemporary history and American Government helped the students more clearly understand the world today.

Family living and psychology classes taught the students how to cope with today's family problems and the world in which we live.

Vaud Travis provides a demonstration in psychology.

Coach Hood ponders a point in his World History class.

Discussion dominated the S.A.T. history class.

Students work on study sheets while Mr. Jones corrects papers.

Mr. Caskey explains a difficult problem to his Algebra I class.

During his free period, Mr. Crawley prepares a test for the next day's class.

The curriculum of the math department was classified into three distinct areas of study. For students who wished to continue their education in the future in the field of math and science, there was mathematics on the higher level. Calculus and functions are two such courses included in this program. A program of general high mathematics was offered to students who wished to pursue a liberal arts course of study. Students who planned to finish their education at the high school level could have taken such practical courses as business math. The department, under the chairmanship of Mr. Clyde Swofford, added three new teachers to its staff; Mrs. Swofford, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Olson.

Department Maintains Up-to-Date Curriculum

Mrs. Bumgarner checks geometry homework.

Science Department Has Exchange Teacher

A Forest of Ring Stands witnesses Chemistry Lab work.

Physics students ponder weighty problem.

Goals of the science department were to teach laboratory skills, scientific thinking and problem solving. Chemistry classes developed the skills of clear logical reasoning and laboratory techniques. Mrs. Jones, Mr. Bloom, and Mr. Harris were added to our department. Coming from Wales, Mr. Harris, who exchanged places with Mr. Paschal, adjusted rapidly to East's way of life. Biology, a required course, helped acquaint students with the plant and animal world and the way it lives. Miss Finch and Mrs. Moore have been added to the biology department. Classes in physics stressed physical laws and their applications.

Lisa Bayer and Bebbie Barke share dissection pan.

Spanish bulletin board echoes class learnings.

French IV features independent study.

Students Discover Foreign Languages, Cultures

Roman Classics are studied in Latin class.

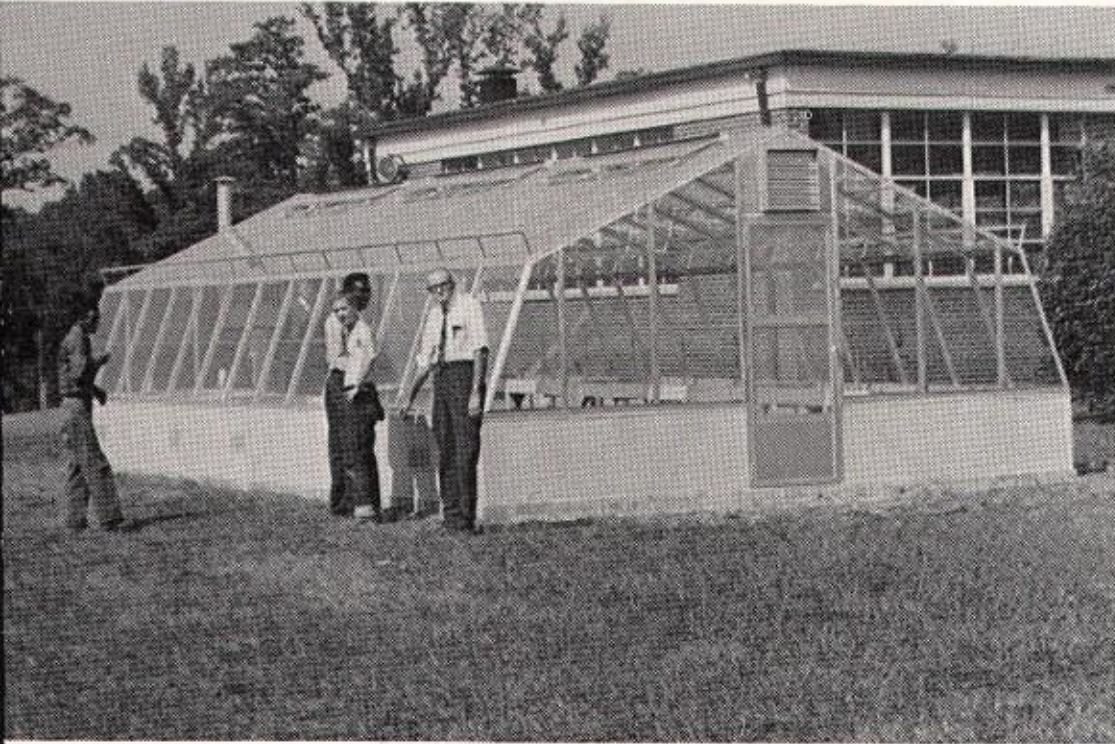

By conversation, study of grammar, reading and composition, the language department tried to give students a workable knowledge of a foreign country and its language. Miss Murphy, Miss Scott, Mrs. Goode and Mrs. Moorer took positions in the staff of the language department. Courses taught in the language department were Latin I, II, IV; French I, II, III, IV; and Spanish I, II, III, IV. Members of the French classes attended the play LE TARTUFFE at Ovens Auditorium on February 14. The language department helped the various language clubs to sponsor French Week, Spanish Week, and Latin Week.

Miss Scott directs pupil to proper page in French textbook.

Business Department Adds Two New Courses

Mr. Flatt supervises construction of new greenhouse.

Two new courses were added to the business department this year. In fashion merchandising, students got a glimpse of the fashion world and the way it operates. Students in health occupations learned the facts and techniques needed to pursue a career in some area of health. In addition to these two new courses, there were classes to teach students how to operate key punch and data processing machines. There were other classes in typing, shorthand, marketing, salesmanship, office practice and bookkeeping. Teachers worked in co-operation with local companies to find on the job training for many students.

Vocational courses included home economics, agriculture, and industrial arts. From these courses, students learned skills that will be useful throughout their lives.

Future home economists learn concepts of domestic life.

Letterholders take shape in Industrial Arts class.

Boys' physical education helped build character.

Gym Classes Enliven Students Schedules

Physical Education had a prominent place in the school curriculum. The goal of the classes was to stimulate participation and interest in athletics. In addition, the students learned that hard work brings success, and that it takes teamwork to succeed in any phase of life. Girls took units in speedball, volleyball, exercise, tumbling, gymnastics, track and baseball while boys learned football, basketball, wrestling and track. This year we had student teachers in both the boys' and girls' physical education classes.

You can always tell a "halo" girl!

Basketball was a highly-favored activity.

Endurance was cultivated in girls' physical education.

Orientation Program Embodies Five Courses

To aid the guidance staff and the Student Council Orientation Committee in helping to adjust sophomores to East, an orientation program of five seven week classes was required. The various classes included in this year's curriculum were speech, art, self-analysis, personal adjustment and drivers education.

During the first week of School a committee consisting of members of the Junior Class planned and carried out an efficient program of orientation. These students visited sophomore homerooms and explained school regulations and procedures. Various assemblies were planned and a sock hop was staged in the gym. This system was most effective in orienting sophomores to East's way of life.

Mr. Presson explains basic traffic patterns.

Music And Art Add New Dimensions To Life At East

The orchestra practices its music for International Day.

Music and art, essential portions of East's curriculum, allowed students to explore and develop their various talents. Chorus, orchestra and band were opened to all students while the choir and ensembles were filled by audition. The department served the school by providing entertainment for school assemblies. The art department was most successful this year as many students received various awards on the regional and national levels. Mrs. Marvin, a newcomer to the art department took over for Mrs. Minich while Mr. Miller took over the chairmanship of the department.

Mr. Vendittia and the band enjoy the applause after a rousing number at a pep rally.

National Honor Society Prominent At East

Members of the Honor Society were selected on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership and service. The new members, juniors and seniors, are chosen on the basis of their latest semester grades. They were inducted into the Veritas chapter of the National Honor Society in late March.

Led by David Baker and advised by Mrs. Smith the Honor Society provided tutoring services for students that needed them. The Honor Society also sold candy to raise money for the scholarship they gave.

Mrs. Smith, Advisor of the Honor Society.

David Baker Chosen As Morehead Scholar

Scholarship awards were numerous among East seniors this year. In the fall of 1967, East was notified that seniors David Baker, John Davis, Karen Hassett, Margaret Mooney, and Jim Thompson were National Merit Semi-finalists. After the completion of various forms, all these students advanced to finalist status.

David Baker and Dennis Kirkley were chosen as Morehead Scholarship Semifinalists. David became a finalist, and was awarded the eight thousand dollar scholarship to be used for his education at UNC-CH.

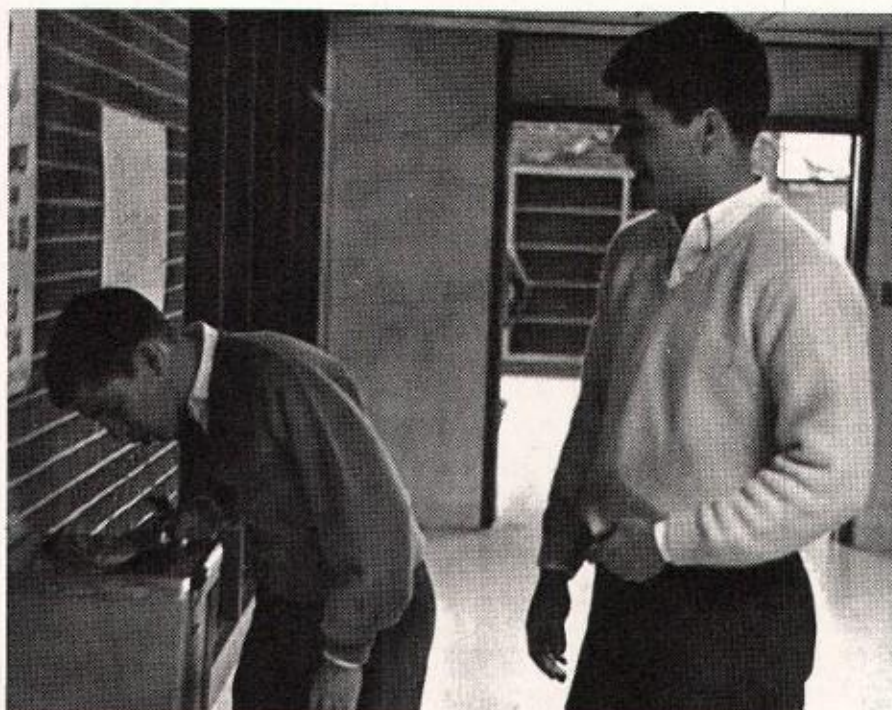

Jim Thompson received a four thousand dollar scholarship from Furman University to study chemistry.

Jimmy Forbis was given a full athletic scholarship to Duke University. Jim Tomancheck also received a Duke Scholarship to play football.

Last year fifteen academically superior juniors were chosen to be the marshals for this year. Marshals, led by chief marshal Debbie Haan, presided over all assemblies. They were excused from classes to direct the students in sophomore, junior, and senior meetings. Marshals also directed the students at pep rallies. To have been chosen a marshal was one of the top honors for a student in his junior year.

Nancy Taggart, Sophomore Class Beauty

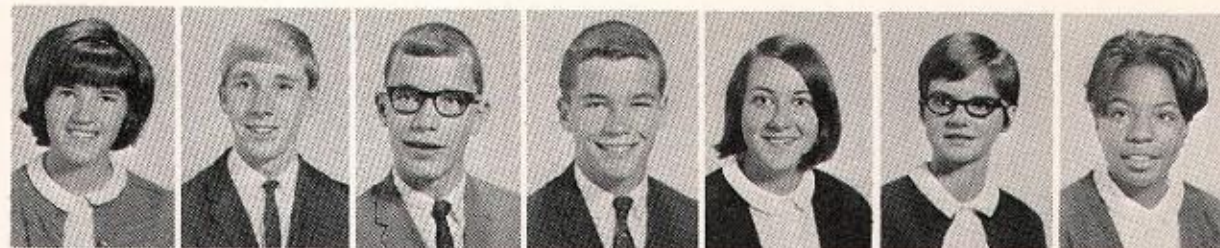

The Baby Eagles Spread Their Wings

A new school life unfolds before the Sophomore class as each student finds himself in a different and more challenging atmosphere. These undergraduates take a new pride in being a part of a society where each person must reach for greater understanding and a good academic standing. Attending dances, club activities, and athletic events helps to make the Sophomore versatile and permits him to express his dignity and pride in taking part in his new surroundings. Although a Sophomore faces difficulty in adjustment to this new environment, he soon finds that his purpose in school is to take advantage of these adjustments and to excel in his own way.

Class officers: Bill Archer, president; Susan Northrup, secretary; Roger Price, vice-president; and Ken Robinson, treasurer discuss their plans for the Sophomore class picnic with advisor, Mrs. Wright.

Junior Eagles Learn To Fly

Some of the many turmoils of being a Junior include having Senior rings broken in on your head or having sly remarks unconsciously dropped in your presence. However, this year is not really as bad as it looks for the Junior. Amidst the problems of "in-betweenness" he must find that this year is a time to prepare for leadership and to broaden his knowledge. He must find that work comes before play and that he will soon be looked on to lead the school as a Senior.

Senior Eagles Leave The Nest

Seniors, caught in a maze of college preparation and vocational opportunities, demonstrated in their last year at high school leadership qualities. They expressed a feeling of pride as these upperclassmen enjoyed such privileges as wearing Senior rings, leaving for lunch early, and sometimes taking advantages of Sophomores and Juniors.

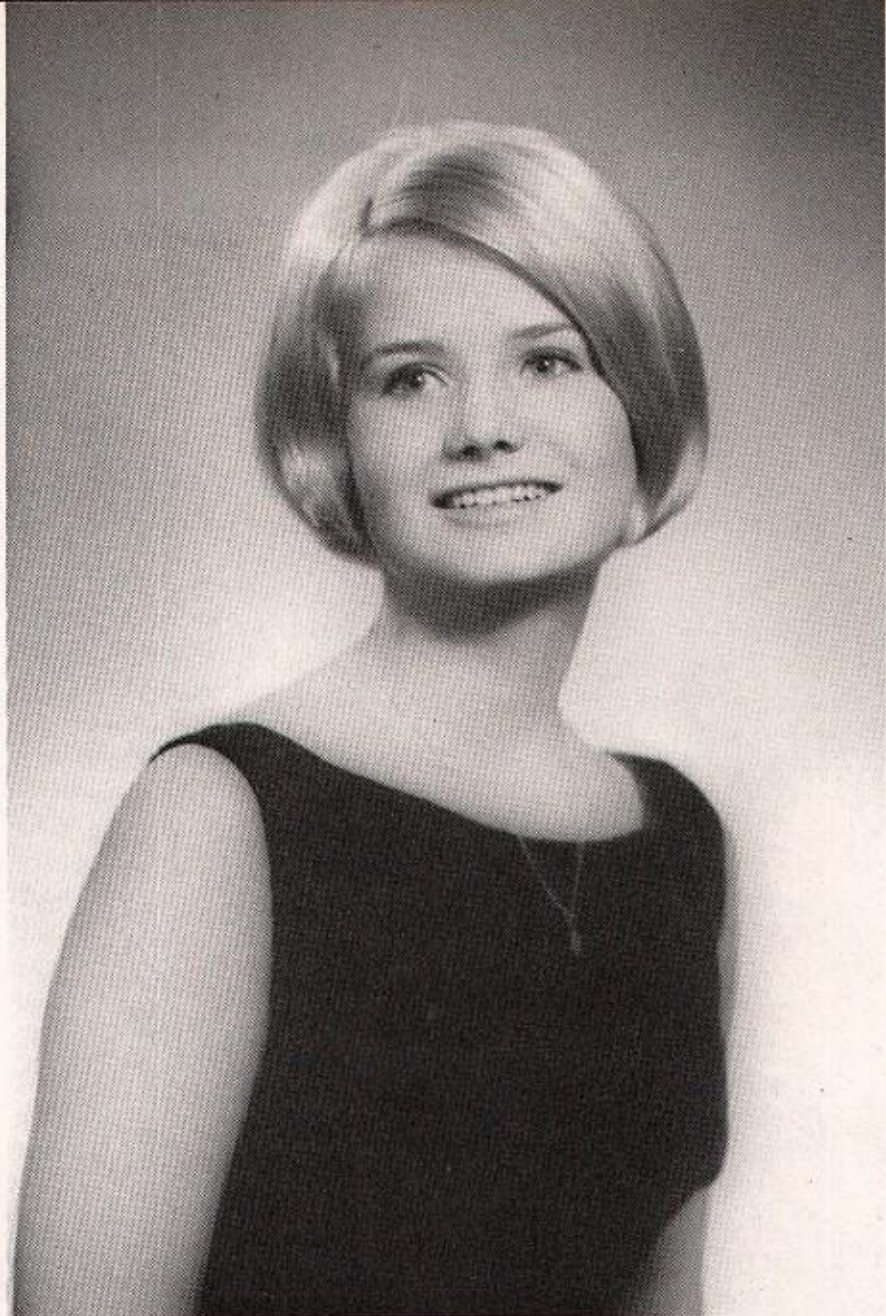

This year's graduating class produced many students well qualified for future jobs in varied fields. Each member of the Senior Class has accomplished something in his own way, and we all wish them the best of luck throughout the years.

has done its job.

epilog

As the annual staff glimpses the end of many long months of work, we stop and look back on the final product. Although this annual will occupy center stage at the time of its release, it will very soon become another dust-gatherer on the bookshelf. Yet now, to the students of East, it is more than just a book. It is a chronicle of a year's events; the comings and goings of over 1700 students.

A yearbook has a rather vague journalistic identity, as it must be a book of history, record, and art. It will therefore not meet everyone's demands. But it is hoped that each reader will glean some words and pictures of interest and enjoyment, and an impression of East in 1968.
